Drastic 2-Way Cuts Made In Canadian Tariffs

Meeting Gives Wismer Formula Full Approval

All signs today point to Victoria, Vancouver and New Westminster getting partial streetcar and bus service tomorrow, with full urban transportation facilities in operation Wednesday morning.

The 2,800 employees of the B.C. Electric Railway Co. Ltd. transportation departments in the three cities today are voting on Labor Minister Gordon S. Wismer's proposal to settle the strike, which today entered its 29th day. There is every indication that the men will accept this offer, which provides for a 15-cent per hour wage boost across the board.

Here are the signs which point to acceptance of this offer and the end of the strike:

1. The advisory board of the Street Railwaymen's Union (A.F.L.) has urged the membership to accept the proposal.

2. At a membership meeting Sunday night here, attended by a majority of the Victoria strikers, the recommendation of the advisory board was unanimously accepted. It is understood among officials of the union here that memberships in Vancouver and New Westminster had taken similar action.

3. The advisory board of the union has already instructed the men to return to work as soon as the result of the vote is announced.

4. The streetcar and bus operators here feel they will be back on the job Tuesday and Wednesday.

Officials of the B.C.E.R. have announced that if they are given the go-ahead tonight by the union following the counting of ballots a partial service will be given Tuesday with full service Wednesday.

Service cannot be resumed immediately because a considerable amount of maintenance work must be done on the streetcars, tracks and buses. Bus routes will be the first to get service, but it is possible that some streetcar routes will be taken over temporarily by buses until the tracks are readied for the streetcars.

Official Result At 10 Tonight

Voting on the Wismer strike settlement formula started in Victoria at 8 this morning to continue until 5 tonight. F. P. French, president of the Victoria division of the S.R.U., just as soon as the polls have been closed, will fly with the ballots to Vancouver, where they will be counted along with ballots cast by the strikers in Vancouver and New Westminster.

The result is expected to be announced about 10 tonight.

It is understood that the settlement proposal's acceptance by company is contingent on an increase in streetcar and bus fares. A fare increase is likely to be effected on the mainland as soon as interim approval can be secured from the Public Utilities Commission.

In Victoria, however, the company has undertaken to seek no fare increase until the new franchise has been effected so that no application for increase in fares is anticipated here until early in December.

While no official statement was available from the company as to what action it will take on fares, it is understood unofficially that Victorians may expect to pay either eight or nine cents for streetcar and bus rides in the future. Tickets will likely be either four for 30 cents or three for 25 cents.

It is considered possible that the company will discontinue passes which under the franchise agreement were to sell for $1 per week. Another possibility is that weekly passes will cost $1.25 or $1.30 each.

Dr. W. A. Carrothers, chairman of the Public Utilities Commission, said the commission is in a position to deal immediately with any fare-boost application.

In Vancouver, where the streetcar-bus fare is seven cents, it is considered likely that it will rise to 10 cents following acceptance of the settlement proposal. Tickets there are expected to sell at three for 25 cents.

Vote Today Fifth In Dispute

The streetcar men are voting today for the fifth time since negotiations for a contract were undertaken. The old contract formally came to end March 1 but the men continued working under it until Oct. 20.

The first vote was on an early offer by the company, which was rejected by the union membership. In the second vote the membership overwhelmingly endorsed strike action. This followed tabling of a 7½-cent per hour boost which the advisory board of the union had recommended the membership to accept.

The men voted twice on settlement proposals after the strike started, each time turning down offers for 10-cent per hour boosts. The second offer provided for a slightly more rapid effecting of a 40-hour work week than the first.

The latest settlement proposal, worked out last week by Mr. Wismer in conference with officers of the union and the company and the reeves and mayors of the municipalities and cities involved in the strike, provides for a 15-cent boost, but makes no provision for a reduction of working hours.

The men had sought a 20-cent an hour boost in wages and 40-hour week, with no reduction in take-home pay.

It is understood that the wage increase will take effect immediately.

Deny Report Of Lumber Price Jump

A report stating prices of No. 1 and No. 2 common lumber would today increase $14 per 1,000 feet, was denied by A. W. Miller, manager of the Victoria Division, B.C. Forest Products Ltd.

The report quoted an unnamed official of B.C. Forest Products as saying: "The increase in prices will mean that lumber of an average five-room house will now cost about $300 more than it has since last May 1."

Mr. Miller said today: "I state positively the report is entirely erroneous, and is a misrepresentation of fact. It has no basis. There is no contemplated increase in lumber prices in British Columbia as of this date."

Delayed at Whitehorse

EDMONTON, Alta. (CP)—Operations officers at Northwest Command, Royal Canadian Air Force, reported today that round-the-world fliers George Truman and Clifford Evans were still at Whitehorse, Y.T., awaiting improved weather conditions.

Long Period Of Idleness Near End

By tonight it is probable crews will be reinstalling batteries and filling gasoline tanks for these long-idle buses to be put on their routes tomorrow. When the picture of the buses was taken today, news indicated B.C.E.R. strikers would return to work immediately the vote was announced tonight. At meetings yesterday the strikers were unanimously in favor of accepting the latest offer, and voting by ballot is proceeding today.

U.S. To Lend Canada $300,000,000 To Restore Balance, Ottawa Reports

OTTAWA (CP)—Reports were in circulation here today that the Export-Import Bank at Washington will shortly announce a loan of $300,000,000 to Canada to bolster up Canada's shrinking reserve of U.S. dollars.

The Export-Import Bank is the agency used by the United States government to support international trade by making loans both to foreign countries and private corporations.

No information was immediately available here as to the rates of interest the bank would charge which would depend on the length of the loan.

For some weeks frequent visits of Canadian top finance officials to Washington have been understood to concern a loan, but government sources have declined to comment.

In Ottawa on Saturday night Transport Minister Chevrier forecast that Canadians faced an "appreciable decrease" in the standard of living if Canada's adverse trade balance with the United States is to be remedied. He indicated a loan would be only a temporary expedient.

He made the statement in a speech to the French Chamber of Commerce on the eve of publication of 17 trade agreements signed at Geneva and possible government action on the adverse trade balance, estimated to reach nearly $1,000,000,000 by the end of the year.

Mr. Chevrier said that a "substantial" increase in exports to the United States and limitation of imports is "the most efficient remedy to settle the dollar crisis."

Speaking in French, he added that the best bulwark against inflation was an increase in production of highly sought materials and foodstuffs.

'Boss' Johnson Will Seek Liberal Party Leadership

A native son of Victoria who now represents New Westminster in the British Columbia Legislature, Byron Ingemar Johnson, 36, today threw his hat in the ring for the provincial leadership of the Liberal Party—a post which carries with it the possibility of the premiership of the province.

In Victoria today Mr. Johnson, who is vice-president and general manager of Evans, Coleman and Gilley Bros. Ltd., president and general manager of Evans, Coleman & Evans Ltd., Gilley Bros. Ltd., McCleer & Weston Ltd., Diethers Ltd., Evans, Coleman and Johnson Bros. Ltd., Producers Sand and Gravel Co. Ltd., and Marpole Coal Co. Ltd., and a director of the B.C. Power Corporation Ltd., holding company for the B.C. Electric Railway Co. Ltd., said that he would permit his name to go forward at the provincial Liberal convention Dec. 9 and 10 in Vancouver.

Election of a new party leader is necessitated by the announcement of Premier John Hart that he will retire as soon as his successor can be named. Mr. Hart has headed the Coalition administration of Liberal and Conservative since late in 1941.

Born in Victoria Dec. 10, 1890, Mr. Johnson was educated in Victoria elementary and high schools. He went overseas during the First World War as a transportation expert with the Imperial Army's 33rd Field Ambulance. Early in 1918 he started instruction with the R.A.F. in England.

Topping the polls in Victoria on the Liberal ticket in 1933, Mr. Johnson was defeated in 1937 when he ran for re-election in Victoria while a resident of New Westminster.

Re-entering provincial politics in 1945 by contesting the New Westminster constituency, he won a big majority in the by-election necessitated following the death of Lands Minister A. Wells Gray. He was re-elected later the same year during the general election.

BYRON I. "BOSS" JOHNSON
... his hat in the ring.

During the Second World War Mr. Johnson served as British Columbia representative of Air Minister Power in connection with building new air bases to form Canada's air defence. He was awarded the M.B.E. for his service.

Urges Congress To Keep Wage-Hours Act

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Labor Schwelb today called on Congress today to spurn all suggestions for tampering with the 40-hour week provisions of the Wage-Hour Act.

The cabinet officer also urged quick action to hike the present 40-cent an hour minimum wage to 75 cents.

His testimony was given before a House Labor subcommittee which has been studying proposals for changes in the nine-year-old statute covering workers whose output crosses state lines.

Tariffs In New Pacts Important To B.C.'s Trade

VANCOUVER (CP)—Veterans' Minister Ian MacKenzie said in an interview here that the Geneva trade agreements, announced in Ottawa, will be of "tremendous importance in every single item in its effects on British Columbia."

He declined to expand on the statement other than to say that in his opinion 95 per cent of the effects would be favorable.

Mr. MacKenzie added that he is confident that when Parliament meets Dec. 5, both long-range and short-term policies will be ready to meet Canada's trade and monetary problems in relation to the United States.

The Veterans' Minister arrived here during the week-end for a 10-day semi-official visit.

He denied recent Ottawa reports that he planned to retire. The reports were carried last week in a forecast of cabinet members who might leave the government during the next year.

Navy To Get All Equipment Needed To Combat Mines

OTTAWA (CP)—The navy will put more mine disposal equipment to work in British Columbia waters if the situation warrants, but indications here are that present equipment is sufficient to handle the few Japanese mines turning up, a headquarters spokesman said today.

The spokesman was commenting on an Esquimalt dispatch which said Dr. J. B. Tully, federal oceanographer at Nanaimo, had predicted in a report that "thousands" of mines might be expected along the Vancouver Island coast and that of the mainland during the next two years.

However, the spokesman said there had been no official communication to headquarters concerning the mines and officials said there was no information here to the effect that the menace might increase.

"Mines have appeared in small numbers during the last year or so, but they have been disposed of with little difficulty," the spokesman said. "Present facilities are believed to be adequate for keeping them under control."

"However, if the situation should produce more mines, more equipment will be provided to take care of them."

Mines float free were no problem to dispose of, he said. They could be exploded with rifle, machine gun, or heavier gunfire. In the case of mines which were washed ashore, a mine disposal officer, expert in dealing with the horned gadgets, was sent to the scene.

3 Cumberland Youths Killed In Up-Island Traffic Tragedy

COURTENAY, V.I. (CP)—Three youths were killed and one severely hurt early Sunday when struck by an automobile on the highway between Courtenay and Cumberland, six miles from here. The boys were walking along the road when the tragic accident occurred.

Dead are J. William Weir, Ernest Court, 18, and Jack Stephenson, 18, all of Cumberland. The injured youth is Arthur Somerville, also of Cumberland. Both of his legs were broken.

Driver of the car was Steve Makuk, a logger employed by the Vancouver Island Logging Company, in whose vehicle there

U.S. Lowers Duty On Lumber, Fish; Boosts Quotas

OTTAWA (CP)—Sweeping tariff reductions, heralding wider export markets for Canadian goods and a lowering of Canada's barriers against imports, were announced tonight by the government on the basic international tariff agreements coming into force Jan. 1, 1948. Here is a summary of the wide range of goods and materials affected:

These cuts, running up to 50 per cent for trade with the United States and sometimes amounting to elimination of individual tariffs with other countries, are embodied in agreements which Canada negotiated with 17 countries at the world trade conference held in Geneva this summer.

They affect a broad list of products of the land, the sea, the forest, the mine and the factory which Canada both imports and exports, ranging from agricultural products to fisheries, from lumber to minerals and manufactured goods.

U.S. duty on Canadian wheat slashed from 42 to 21 cents a bushel, and 800,000-bushel-a-year quota removed.

U.S. duties on fresh or frozen salmon and halibut halved, with lesser reductions in several other types by the U.S., France, Brazil, Cuba, Czechoslovakia, India and Norway.

U.S. quota on Canadian cattle enlarged from 225,000 to 400,000 annually, and on calves from 100,000 to 200,000.

U.S. duty sliced from 6 to 3 cents a pound on beef and veal, fresh, chilled or frozen.

U.S. duties halved on almost all Canadian woods and wood products exported to that country. Duties on some woods reduced by France, India, Belgium, Netherlands, Luxembourg.

REDUCTIONS ON FISH

Fifty-per cent duty reductions on many Canadian fish products going to the U.S., with cod fillets the major exceptions.

U.S. duty on wheat flour cut from $1.04 to 52 cents a barrel and quota of 4,000,000 pounds a year removed.

U.S. duty halved on coarse grains.

Tariff reductions obtained on many Canadian manufactured goods going to the U.S., Belgium, France, Netherlands, Luxembourg, India, Norway, Brazil, Chile, China, Cuba and Czechoslovakia.

U.S. duties on canned and dried apples reduced 50 per cent, and duty on fresh apples cut from 15 to 12½ cents per bushel.

Various reductions effected by France, Norway, Czechoslovakia, Belgium, Netherlands, Luxembourg.

Butter duty cut by U.S. from 14 to seven cents a pound.

U.S. duties cut in half on all live poultry, all dressed poultry except turkey, and on baby chicks and canned chicken.

U.S. duties on whisky and gin reduced substantially.

Quota on Canadian seed potatoes, boosted by the U.S. from 1,500,000 to 2,500,000 a year.

U.S. duty on turnips cut 50 per cent.

Reductions obtained in the wheat flour "monopoly tax" in Cuba, Belgium, Netherlands and Holland, and on the wheat flour tax in French colonial possessions.

Numerous reductions granted by various countries on a range of non-metallic minerals and non-ferrous metals.

CANADIAN CONCESSIONS

Canada reduces 390 items in its most-favored-nation tariff list and 100 British preferential items. She also confirms, for the period of the treaties, 460 existing most-favored-nation rates.

Canada wipes out its 50-cent-a-ton duty on anthracite coal and cuts the duty on bituminous from 75 to 50 cents.

Duties are lowered to match U.S. levels on live cattle and hogs, beef, veal, baby chicks, shell eggs, cheese, barley, oats, rye and hay.

The duty on tea is dropped from 8 to 6 cents a pound, and on green coffee from 3 to 2 cents.

The system of tariffs on fresh fruits and vegetables is changed to give consumers greater access to imported products and at the same time protect Canadian producers during their own seasons.

Reductions are effected in certain processed fruits and vegetables including peaches, pears, apricots, pineapples, and on jellies, jams and marmalades.

Duties are lowered on several quantities of fresh and processed fish, and lobsters are put on the free list.

The sugar rate is unchanged, but rates on sugar products are lowered.

Duties on Tobaccos, cigars and cigarettes are reduced. On U.S. cigarettes, the rate is dropped from $3 a pound plus 15 per cent to $2 a pound plus 15 per cent.

Duties on spirituous liquors are reduced generally, by varying amounts.

A wide range of paper products received lowered duties, both under the British preferential and most-favored-nation classifications.

Duties on a large range of chemical products are reduced and others are bound against increase for the life of the agreements.

TEXTILE RATES DOWN

Canada extends duty reductions on some 125 textile products, both for empire countries and other signatories. These cover cotton, other vegetable fibres, wool, rayons and other synthetics and silks.

Reductions ranging between 8 and 25 per cent are effected on some rubber products.

Rates on earthen and glass tableware are cut up to 30 per cent.

The favored-nation rate on hardwood flooring—major item in the wood import list—is reduced from 17½ to 12½ per cent.

Duties on many primary steel products are lowered.

All farm implements and farm machinery now admitted duty-free are bound against the imposition of any duty.

Rates are lowered from 17½ to 15 per cent on ore and rock-crushers, rock drills and similar mining and quarrying machinery.

CHEAPER MACHINERY

Machinery for use in logging operations is dropped from 15 to 12½ per cent duty.

Primary and rolling-mill products of aluminum are placed on a reciprocity basis with the U.S. Concessions in tariffs have been made by both countries.

Duties on many articles of household equipment are reduced, including those on refrigerators, washing machines, and electric light fixtures. The duty on vacuum cleaners is frozen.

Present Canadian duties on automobiles are bound against increase.

Murder Charge Heard Tomorrow

Preliminary hearing of the charge laid by city police against Edith Ethel Davis of murdering William Andrew Davis on Oct. 18, will open in city police court tomorrow morning. It was learned today, Joseph McKenna will appear as Mrs. Davis' defence counsel.

Thousands Of Jap Mines Likely To Drift Across Pacific To This Coast

Thousands of floating mines may be expected to menace the Vancouver Island and mainland coasts during the next two years, according to Dr. J. B. Tully, Dominion oceanographer, at Nanaimo.

This prediction was made by the Canadian scientist in a report submitted last week. He has been making an extensive study of Pacific currents, tides and winds, in connection with the oceanographic survey work being conducted on this coast by the Dominion Government, and with his observations of the recurring appearances of the mines on this coast has come to the conclusion that the free-floating horned mines will threaten this coast for the next two years.

His report has been kept secret. Esquimalt naval base officials decline to discuss it, and Dr. Tully has referred questioners to naval headquarters in Ottawa.

INADEQUATE PATROL

William Boss, Canadian Press staff writer, describes the Canadian naval forces here facing the menace as in the position of being asked to fight a locust plague with a fly swatter. The only naval craft suitable here for mine detection and destruction is Motor Launch 124, a Fairmile. Two others, the destroyer Crescent and the frigate Antigone, though used for the work, are considered too large for efficient minesweeping operations and too expensive to operate.

In reserve at Esquimalt are a cruiser, three destroyers, three frigates and minesweepers. Of these the minesweepers would be most suitable, but naval officers say they can not bring them out of reserve without a change of the national defence policy which laid them up.

Officers have worked out an approximate cost of $2,000 a day, including crew's pay, food, vessel depreciation, for the operation of a destroyer; $1,700 for a frigate and $700 for a Fairmile. Economicalcally, Fairmiles appear to them as their best bet.

During the war, Japanese sowed thousands of mines in the Pacific... some estimates reach as high as 50,000. Each contains 500 pounds of explosive, enough to sink a passenger vessel if vitally struck, to destroy a fishing craft, and to cripple other types if bulkheads are broken.

The present danger has been brought about by disintegration of the mines' moorings after two or three years of submersion.

Sown in the Japanese current and, as they go adrift, follow its course. After a broad sweep through the Pacific, they come up the North American seaboard, where a counterplay of tides and winds, acting on the current, sends them to points along the coast.

Scientists' prediction is that, besides the entrance to Juan de Fuca, they will also haunt a stretch of Vancouver Island coastline between Florence Bay and Wickaninnish (Long Beach) and may even be carried up to the Queen Charlotte Islands.

Service officers, on the other hand, say that the predicted areas are precisely those in which the mines so far sighted have not appeared. Since the end of the war, the Canadian Navy here has had reports of 20 and has destroyed 10.

The navy, however, is inclined to respect the prediction, ready to believe that, over a longer period... perhaps five years... mine activity along the coast may bear out the scientists' theories.

Fictional Flood 'Scare' Broadcast Killed By Official

TORONTO (CP)—V. Deacon, National Film Board supervisor for Ontario, announced today that a 15-minute recorded radio broadcast based on a fictional disappearance of Canada under water, "will be called back and there will be an investigation."

The program broadcast over station CKEY here Sunday told listeners that the northern half of North America had gone under water and there was no land anywhere—few survivors, and everyone was panic-stricken.

The radio station was flooded with telephone calls from worried listeners, although the broadcast ended on a happy note. The announcer said, in closing: "Don't be worried. This is just another Orson Welles—nothing has happened to Canada. Canada is wealthy and prosperous. We are no longer just a nation, we are a power... our decisions will be felt the world over."

Mr. Deacon said the record was slated to be heard in other parts of Canada, "but not any more."

night and injured nearly 50 others.

Fire Chief L. T. Lessinger said he believed the explosion occurred in a gas range in the restaurant.

Thirty-four persons remained in Nampa hospitals.

The blast sent patrons of the Forbidden Palace restaurant and Alibi Inn reeling as timbers and bricks fell among them.

Found dead in the two-story brick-and-frame building were Mrs. Gertrude Peterson; Eugene Janssen, 28, Nampa truck driver; William E. Grove, 45; Pop Fong and Kim H. Fong, 34, who recently returned to Nampa from China with his bride.

"There was a big explosion that seemed to come from the back end of the building," said Jack McGuire, a bartender. "I ran outside and back in and helped pull out Earl Vale (owner of the inn.) He had a broken leg."

Truman Asks Congress Vote Recontrol Of Prices, Wages

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman asked Congress today to restore authority for rationing important consumer goods and imposing wage ceilings once more.

He handed his combined program for helping Europe and fighting inflation to the special session of Congress as it met to consider those two allied problems.

The President laid down a 10-point program of what he called "drastic measures" to halt the tide of rising prices in the United States.

While urging continued voluntary attempts to combat inflation, he proposed that Congress legislate to:

1. Authorize "consumer rationing on products in short supply which basically affect the cost of living."

2. Authorize "price ceilings on products in short supply which basically affect the cost of living or industrial production and to authorize such wage ceilings as are essential to maintain the necessary price ceilings."

3. Extend and strengthen rent control.

4. Authorize allocation and inventory control of scarce, cost-of-living commodities.

5. Authorize regulation of speculative trading on commodity exchanges.

6. Restore consumer credit controls and restrain inflationary bank credit.

7. Extend and strengthen export controls.

8. Continue authority to allocate transportation facilities and equipment.

9. Provide measures to induce livestock and poultry marketing so as to obtain the most efficient use of grain.

10. Allow the agriculture department to expand a program for encouraging conservation practices and authorize measures intended to step up foreign food production.

Mr. Truman addressed Congress in person at a time when, he said, "the future of the free nations of Europe hangs in the balance" and "the future of our own economy is in jeopardy."

He repeated the administration's bid for $597,000,000 of interim aid to Italy, France and Austria through next March.

But here at home, he said, inflation is an "ominous threat" to prosperity. It no longer can be treated as "some vague condition we may encounter in the future."

Inflation already is here "to an alarming degree" and it is "getting worse."

Accordingly the President set forth his program to combat it by three types of measures:

To relieve monetary pressures; to channel scarce goods into most essential uses; to deal directly with specific high prices.

PERMISSIBLE CEILINGS

Elaborating on his proposals for authority to restore rationing and price controls, the President said ceilings should be permissible on "vital commodities in short supply that basically affect the cost of living."

Food, clothing, fuel and rent are basic elements in living costs.

Free Nations' Future In Balance

Mr. Truman addressed Congress in person at a time when, he said, "the future of the free nations of Europe hangs in the balance" and "the future of our own economy is in jeopardy."

He repeated the administration's bid for $597,000,000 of interim aid to Italy, France and Austria through next March.

But here at home, he said, inflation is an "ominous threat" to prosperity. It no longer can be treated as "some vague condition we may encounter in the future."

Inflation already is here "to an alarming degree" and it is "getting worse."

Accordingly the President set forth his program to combat it by three types of measures:

To relieve monetary pressures; to channel scarce goods into most essential uses; to deal directly with specific high prices.

In addition, the legislation he

Authority to clamp the lid on wages also should be provided "in all fairness," although there would be "few occasions for its use."

"All the actions I have described are essential to a fair and effective anti-inflation program," the President said. "I look upon them as short-run insurance against the impairment of our prosperity and a threat to our future development."

For agriculture, this required a comprehensive farm program.

He counselled that programs to boost the domestic use of farm products will be needed at the time other countries become more nearly able to supply themselves. National measures will be needed, he said, to protect farmers against "ruinous deflation."

Fire From Blast Raging In Japan

IKEGO, Japan (AP)—Seven big warehouses packed with ammunition exploded at the United States 8th Army supply base here today, sending flames and shrapnel high into the air.

The fire, which broke out at midmorning, raged out of control tonight.

Cause of the blast was not determined immediately.

House To Probe Dalton Incident

LONDON (Reuters)—An all-party committee of the House of Commons will probe the circumstances under which Hugh Dalton, then Chancellor of the Exchequer, gave confidential information to a parliamentary journalist regarding Britain's "crisis budget," announced last Thursday.

Prime Minister Attlee told the Commons today that the government will not oppose establishment of the committee "if the House desires it."

A Conservative motion calling for the probe will be debated in the Commons.

Norma McIlwaine, 916 Collinson Street, and George Lockwood, Ted's Auto Court, Island Highway, suffered injuries Sunday night in a collision between two cars at Caledonia Avenue and Douglas Street. Cars were driven by Raymond Lockwood and Pearl McIlwaine. Norma McIlwaine suffered facial abrasions and George Lockwood, a possible fracture of the left thigh. They were passengers in the two cars.

SHARPLY AFFECTED

Price inflation was having "harsh effects" on wage earners, farmers and businessmen. The housewife, for instance, pays $10 today for food that cost $7 about one and one-half years ago.

Since mid-1946, the cost of living has risen an average of 23 per cent, fuel 13 per cent, clothing 19 and food 40.

Furthermore, price inflation "threatens our entire program of foreign aid."

But the first step toward this future progress was to deal with the critical present.

Sherridon Pickets Let Workers Pass As Truce Arranged

SHERRIDON, Man. (CP)—Approximately 90 men today returned to their jobs at the Sherridon base metals mine of Sherritt-Gordon Ltd., first to do so since the United Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers (C.I.O.) called a strike there three months ago.

The group was in no way interfered with by a picket line, which twice before had turned back groups seeking to enter the mine after the company had decided to reopen it.

Their return followed a 45-hour truce, beginning at noon Saturday, between company and union while the latter sought legal advice. The strike had been termed illegal by the Manitoba government, and at the company's request, the Court of King's Bench had issued injunctions restraining union officers and some union members from preventing workers from returning.

The truce itself had followed arrival of 40 R.C.M.P. officers in the event of "any breach of the peace."

The picket line had been withdrawn during the truce, and while it was returned this morning, its members made no attempt to block the road leading to the mine as they previously had done.

Claim Confession Made In Murder Of Woman At Sea

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng. (AP)—Police said today that a ship steward, James Camb, had confessed he tossed a London actress, Eileen Gay Gibson, into the sea after a rendezvous in her cabin.

"I am fairly certain that at the time she was dead," said Camb's statement as quoted by police, "but I was terribly frightened."

Camb, 31, was arraigned on a murder charge in the death of Miss Gibson, 21. The prosecution said she resisted attack and charged he pushed her through a porthole of the Durban Castle, cruising off Africa, Oct. 18. Camb's statement said she had consented to intimacy.

"She suddenly clutched me, foaming at the mouth," the statement said. "She was very still. I felt for her heart beats and could not find any. I tried artificial respiration. After a struggle with the limp body, I managed to lift her to the porthole and pushed her through."

The Durban Castle was returning to Southampton from Cape Town.

Reach First Step In Settling Peace For Dutch Indies

BATAVIA (AP)—Two members of the United Nations' Good Offices Committee said today the first step toward reaching an agreement in the Dutch-Indonesian dispute had been achieved and appealed to both sides to "listen to our advice."

The first step, said Belgium's Paul Van Zeeland and Australia's Richard Kirby in identical broadcasts from Batavia and Jogjakarta, was taken when the committee brought Dutch and Indonesian representatives together to discuss implementation of the U.N. cease-fire order.

While declining to "interpret or anticipate any attitude" of the conferees, the two speakers declared that "on both sides men of experience repeatedly have told us that in the interests of a far-reaching agreement everything possible should be done forthwith to improve the atmosphere and restore tranquility and calm."

"The Good Offices Committee can be of use only if its appeals are heeded... it is our duty to tell you all: 'Listen to our advice.'"

"If you do as we hope, then killing will stop right now; destruction will cease right now."

NEW YORK (CP)—Dr. Edward L. Borz, president of the American Medical Association, said Sunday in a radio talk that "a child born now can expect to live to be 100 if he is given proper care in infancy and youth and if he avails himself of present medical knowledge through his adult years."

TO ASSIST TRADE

CANADA'S POSITION AS THE THIRD most important trading nation of the world will give her a strong voice in the conference of the International Trade Organization which opens next Friday at Havana. The meeting will finalize the charter of the I.T.O. which was drafted at Geneva in a series of talks that ended last month. Seventeen nations participated at Geneva, and in addition to formulating the principles and methods under which it is hoped to foster international trade, drew up a number of trade agreements among themselves. Details of the treaties which this Dominion signed with 17 other countries will be revealed tonight. All are designed to lower tariffs and encourage the exchange of goods.

As many as 60 nations are expected to be represented at Havana, where the discussions may last until February. Mr. Dana Wilgress, the head of the Canadian delegation, has indicated that this Dominion will endeavor to "persuade the other countries who were not at Geneva, but who will be at Havana to accept the I.T.O. charter as it is." He adds, "We want to see it adopted, for Canada puts great importance in the I.T.O. being established and starting to function."

One of the most serious repercussions of the recent war, apart from the actual physical damage inflicted on most of the countries of the globe, has been the dislocation of trade channels which now hampers recovery. The I.T.O. is an attempt to remedy this and place international trade on a permanent basis of mutual good for all member states. It will provide background, rather than interference, for such arrangements as the "Marshall Plan." As one official has put it, "The Marshall Plan is for the next four or five years. The I.T.O. Charter is for 50 years or more." To a nation such as Canada, whose prosperity depends on the export market, this is a development of prime importance. It will, in addition, provide another crucial test of the ability of the member states of the United Nations to function in harmony for their mutual benefit. The progress of the I.T.O. so far has been very encouraging.

MUNICIPAL GOVERNMENT

IT SHOULD BE UNDERSTOOD BY THE taxpayers and voters of the city of Victoria that the Civic Non-Partisan League, whose members are now giving a good deal of time and thought to the municipal business of this community, has no other purpose in view than that of inducing capable men and women to permit themselves to be nominated as candidates in the elections which will be held on December 11 next.

Should there be any criticism of the method employed in this regard it can be answered without equivocation by the simple statement that the affairs of this capital city of the province of British Columbia, in the League's opinion, have reached a stage where it is essential to study them and to reach decisions on them from a practical administrative standpoint. In other words, when the Non-Partisan League gets down to the point of "screening" potential aspirants for civic office a good deal of careful cogitation may be necessary before arriving at the precise personnel which the organization considers wise to include in the "slate" it is prepared to support. Nor should it be necessary to point out that those progressively-minded citizens who have given their time, talents, and experience to this cause, have done so with no other purpose to serve than that which obviously is inherent in the desire for economic stability hereabouts.

This being the case, therefore, our readers and the general public of this community should find it easy to agree with a principle which is neither connected with nor related to any form of party concept.

Without repeating arguments with which readers of these columns already have become thoroughly familiar, we say there are so many fundamental problems and policies which the government of this municipality should consider forthwith that the general purpose of the Non-Partisan League requires no further emphasis.

Nothing in the foregoing should be taken as an aspersion on the quality of the service which the aldermanic body as constituted in recent years has rendered to Victoria. It is merely to point out that in this swiftly-moving age it is essential that new blood be infused into those offices at the City Hall which, under traditional usage, are to fall vacant at an early date. This means, in the final analysis, that when the qualified voters go to the polls on December 11 they should have before them on the ballot paper a list of aspirants for public office who may rightly be accorded special consideration.

Urban: Pertaining to a city; opposite of rural. Urbanity: A quality that New Yorkers find only in the country.

STUPID AND MONOTONOUS

EVEN THE "FELLOW TRAVELERS" and the so-called intellectuals with the "pink" tinge must be getting tired of the monotonous outbursts against the western world to which Russia's Andrei Vishinsky, Deputy Foreign Commissar and her chief delegate to the United Nations, continues to give voice. His latest sounding board was the dinner given in New York last night by the National Council of Soviet-American Friendship at which, so the dispatch reports today, he departed almost entirely from his prepared speech—despite the fact that unofficial translations of his script had been distributed in advance.

Among other things, Mr. Vishinsky told his audience that he had observed a "frenzied" upsurge of opinion favoring war with Russia, and that United States policies in Germany apparently were aimed at "preserving the remnants of Fascism" so that the former Reich could be prepared for action against his own country. None of the foregoing is original. Premier Stalin, Foreign Commissar Molotov and Security Council delegate Gromyko have, at frequent intervals since the United Nations began to operate, voiced similar views in variegated forms. And it may as well be admitted that in this and other democratic countries certain infinitesimal elements from time to time permit their imagination to run away with their better judgment. They are not taken seriously by their own kind; much of it is a pose, dangerous, to be sure. Yet what can Mr. Vishinsky expect when scarcely an issue of the official Communist organs such as Pravda and Izvestia is published without some fantastic attack on the "monopolistic-capitalistic" countries?

It will appear to the great majority of the intelligent people of the United States and the other democracies that Soviet spokesmen are bound by their instructions from Moscow to classify all who prefer to do their own thinking as Fascists. They are nothing of the kind; and Mr. Vishinsky knows full well that free men and women of the western world are permitted to say practically everything that is in their minds as they exercise their liberty to criticize their governments. Prison is the punishment for similar behaviour in his own country. If he chooses to read into this type of freedom's manifestation a "frenzied" upsurge in favor of war against a people hampered by the shackles of medievalism, there is little that people who desire to be friendly with the masses of the Soviet Union can do about it.

'AFFLUENCE OF INCOHOL'

A SARNIA COURT, THE WINDSOR Star informs us, recently dealt with a case in which a culprit brought before it had been "drunk but not intoxicated." The court, the newspaper continued, cautiously refrained from drawing the necessary fine distinctions between the two states, so frequently considered synonymous. It went on to quote the classification established by police court habitués to the effect that:

The client who has been retrieved from a nap in the gutter was drunk; if ambulatory but belligerent, intoxicated; but if he was politely raising his hat to successive lamp posts on the way home, merely cheerfully inebriated.

That is one method of classification. A judge in British Columbia Supreme Court presents another. He was careful to point out to a jury that a man under the influence of liquor was not necessarily a man in a state of intoxication. His Lordship added:

"A man who has taken a glass of buttermilk is under the influence of buttermilk."

This, it seems, opens up a whole new field for discussion of the differences between the influences of buttermilk and the influences of what has sometimes been called moosemilk. It also points to the desirability of establishing a definite police station standard of determining the degree of incapacity, mental and physical, from which a person brought into the charge office may be suffering as the result of drinking.

SWEETNESS AND LIGHT

ANOTHER WEIRD ASPECT OF science is revealed to the layman in the announcement that experts of the Sugar Research Foundation have successfully used liquid sugar as a substitute for sunlight in the cultivation of tomato plants. There appear to be no grounds for any assumption that syrup baths may some day replace sunbathing as a health measure for human beings; but wide possibilities are opened up in the field of plant culture.

The experiment arose from study of the fact that plant leaves derive carbon dioxide from the air and water from the soil, which they mix with green chlorophyll and the power of sunlight to produce the elements of their growth. The latter include starches and a certain amount of sugar. The scientists reasoned that growth would be aided if they by-passed the action of the sunlight and introduced the sugar by artificial means. They sprayed the under side of tomato plant leaves with sugar in liquid form and deprived the plants of sunlight. It was found that they grew as well as untreated plants which had full exposure to light. A possible way, therefore, appears open to greenhouse proprietors to aid or speed the growth of their products by the use of sugar sprays. "Will you have some more sugar on your strawberries?" may soon be heard in the garden patch as well as at the dining table.

IRON CURTAIN AND MARSHALL PLAN

THE BAD NEWS about the prospects of the crop from the winter wheat belt in Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas underlines sharply the conclusion of the Paris conference, that European recovery requires a resumption of trade and mutual aid between western and eastern Europe. Perhaps the greatest weakness in the United States Administration's presentation of the program to Congress is its extreme understatement about one might almost say its disposition to gloss over—the crucial importance to the success of the Marshall Plan of a flow of food and feeding stuffs, also of timber and coal, from eastern Europe. The likelihood of a very poor American crop will dramatize the impossibility, which was well understood in Paris, of basing the recovery of western Germany on the resources of North America alone.

I AM VENTURING, therefore, to make a few observations on the relation of the eastern European countries to the Marshall Plan. They are based on a number of off-the-record talks I had with Communists, non-Communists, and anti-Communists in Warsaw and Prague just after the 16 western nations at Paris had completed their report.

It is clear to me that the prompt acceptance of the invitation to participate in a European program reflected the real interests and sentiment of Poland and Czechoslovakia, the two key countries within the Soviet orbit. I am no less certain that the command from Moscow forbidding them to participate on pain of a rupture of their alliances was a humiliation which will long be remembered.

WHATEVER THE REAL reasons which caused Moscow itself to decide against participation, it is reasonably clear now that Moscow realized the great attraction of a European program to its allies. In opposing it, Moscow was taking what it thought was a calculated risk. Its primary calculation was that no country would in time of peace make such a massive contribution to the welfare of other nations except on terms which required heavy sacrifices from the recipients. The Russians felt sure, because that is the way they would have acted, that the project would fail: That Congress would not vote the funds without making demands which the Europeans would be compelled to reject.

Soviet propaganda against the Marshall plan—the charge of American imperialism—is staked upon the belief that in voting the funds Congress will impose political conditions, and that in administering the aid the State Department will intervene in the internal affairs of every country that accepts.

NEVERTHELESS, I AM satisfied that not too much weight should be given to the propagandist attack. It has not disposed of the need and the desire of the eastern nations to participate in a European program of recovery. They are reconciled to non-participation in the immediate American aid program, as distinguished from the general European program, because, having studied the report, they believe that they would not qualify for much American assistance.

They see that the American government aid is largely concentrated on food, fuel, and raw materials, rather than on capital goods. Now eastern Europe and Russia are not in a crisis arising from a deficiency of food, fuel, and raw materials. They are potential exporters of these commodities. What they want from the west are capital goods.

THE DIFFERENCE between western Europe and eastern Europe is that the west is in a state of crisis—which requires emergency aid from North America—whereas eastern Europe is, except for certain regions like Bohemia, in a state of chronic misery, which can be relieved only gradually. The west has a higher standard of life which is in danger of collapse if American aid is not forthcoming promptly. The east is accustomed to a low standard of life but it is able at least to maintain it out of the resources which are open to it. For western Europe abnormal aid is required if the existing social order is to be maintained. For eastern Europe isolation means that the improvement of its condition of life will be much slower than if intercourse with the west is resumed and begins to flourish.

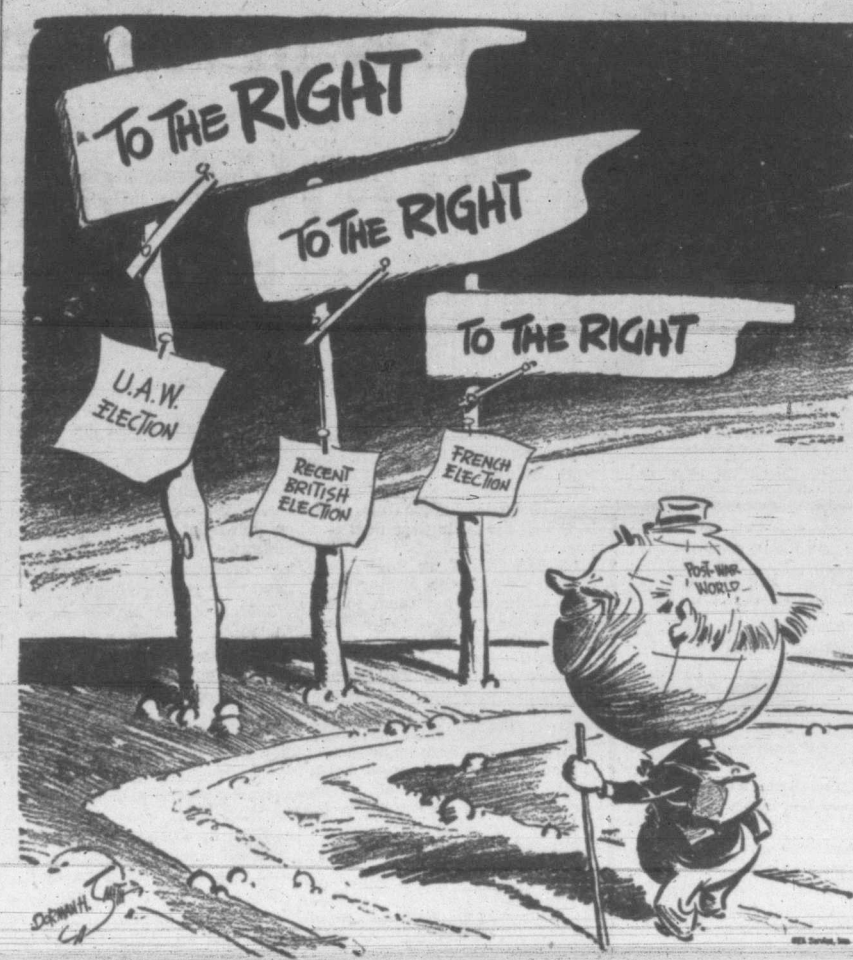

Therefore, in the short run there is no irresistible pressure upon Moscow from within the Soviet orbit to make a European settlement. This is the strongest asset Moscow has in the diplomatic bargaining over the German and the Austrian treaties. In diplomatic terms, the cardinal virtue of the Marshall Plan is that in relieving the crisis of western Europe, it permits western Europe to bargain on equal, even favorable terms, with eastern Europe.

IN THE LONGER RUN, however, the bargaining position of Russia must decline. Eastern Europe, especially in view of Russia's own tremendous reconstruction needs, must stagnate if trade is not resumed with the west.

If the United States is wise she will encourage the resumption of this trade, which is fundamental to the Marshall Plan. She will bring her diplomatic planning into harmony, not with an unduly low estimate of how to "sell" the program to Congress, but with the realities of the European recovery program.

It's A Long Road That Has No Turning

When The Princess Exchanges Vows

TWENTY-EIGHT members of foreign royal houses are coming to Britain to be present at the wedding of Princess Elizabeth. These guests, among whom are four kings and six queens, are all personal friends or relatives of the Princess or Lieut. Mountbatten. They are attending the marriage at the invitation of the King and Queen.

The Royal Family will be seated within the sanctuary rails as at previous royal marriages which for so many centuries have been solemnized in the Abbey. Other seats will be occupied by visiting royalties, official representatives of Commonwealth countries and other nations and personal friends of the bride couple. Places have also been allotted to reporters from the world's newspapers and a small block has been set aside for men and women from those military formations in which the Princess holds honorary rank.

Arrangements have been made for commentaries to be broadcast throughout the world. The scenes outside Buckingham Palace as the processions leave for the abbey and return will be described. Opposite the West Door of the Abbey there will be a record number of 34 United Kingdom and overseas narrators, and a local control room is being installed there to enable 12 simultaneous commentaries to be directed to all parts of the world. In the Abbey itself 21 microphones are to be set up so that listeners may hear the whole of the marriage service, including the responses.

Television pictures will in addition be transmitted from outside the palace and the Abbey. Viewers will see the King and Princess drive up to the Abbey and step out of their carriage. Cameras will also be well placed for showing the Princess and her husband leave after the ceremony and depart for the honeymoon. With the King's approval newsreel films will be taken in the Abbey immediately following the conclusion of the service but there will be no filming or television of the actual ceremony.

REOPEN STATE ROOMS

So great is the interest which has been aroused by this event that every day by every post wedding presents are arriving from all parts of the world. At St. James's Palace they will be shown to the public for 10 days following the Abbey ceremony.

State rooms in Buckingham Palace which have not been used since the outbreak of the war are being brought into service again for the marriage festivities. These include the state dining-room, ballroom and music room. The palace will also be floodlit as on the occasion of the victory celebrations, while banners with fluorescent lighting will decorate the space in front.

A total of 5,700 specially selected police will be on duty in London on November 20. Final plans approved by Commissioner Sir Harold Scott include elaborate arrangements to insure perfect timing for closing points on the route of the procession. Many other problems arising from the handling of crowds on a vast scale not equalled since the coronation are allowed for in the master scheme which has been worked out in conjunction with the London Passenger Transport Board and the railways.

An official souvenir program authorized by the King has just been issued. In 32 finely-produced pages it gives details of the wedding ceremony and the processions, together with biographies of the bride and bridegroom.

Britain Spreads Her Wings

CHARLES GARDNER in London Calling

RADLETT is generally described as the biggest air show in the world, and I wish I could have been a "barker" for it—standing outside and shouting "Roll up—roll up for the biggest show on earth"—or, at least, the biggest show just above the earth.

Practically everything that was shown and flown at this annual S.B.A.C. show was for sale—or was an earnest of what will be for sale later on—and to see 40 new types of British airplane flying, plus 30 more on show on the ground, must be reckoned an amazing effort by an industry beset by the familiar production troubles, and remembering, perhaps ruefully, the priority for materials which once it had, but has no longer.

FAST JET FIGHTER

First of all, let us take the military aircraft which so wrongly still have all the glamour. There was the very, very fast new Supermarine jet fighter—the Attacker, successor to the Spitfire—a long cigar of an airplane. There was to have been the Saunders Roe jet flying-boat fighter—an imaginative conception which may lead to completely mobile squadrons—a sort of "Commando" of the air force, operating from lakes and seashores long before airstrips can be built. Several governments are already known to be interested in this plane—and their representatives were at the show, but, unfortunately, bad weather kept the machines waterbound at Coves.

There was a great deal of interest, too, in the De Havilland 108, with its swept-back wings—the replacement machine for the one in which Geoffrey de Havill-and was killed. This experimental plane, which will have effect on both airliner and fighter design, might be a challenger for the speed record.

BIG AIRLINERS

The civil side—which, to my view, is always more important than the warlike—was dominated, physically anyway, by the big airliners: the successful Tudor, which Air Marshal Bennett assured me is going to make much-needed money for us on the South American route, and the lovely Ambassador—about which a leading American designer said: "Thank goodness this plane is not being produced in competition with mine in America."

It is impossible to sum up concisely an exhibition which covers everything from tires, and nuts, and bolts, to 60-seat airliners. One can only generalize by saying that Britain's position looked pretty good on medium and small airliners and merchant craft, which are probably the best in the world. The Miles Marathon, taking off on three of its four engines and flying fast on only two was something that raised international eyebrows. So was the Wayfarer, disgorging a three-ton lorry. And there was plenty of other evidence that the days of a British merchant air fleet are on the way. But it was in the show of pure jet engines and jet-propellers that Britain's real air-strength hope clearly lay.

DO THEY WORK?

One overseas visitor summed it up by saying: "Inside one can see all these jet engines. They look nice, but one still asks: 'Do they work?' Outside one can see most of them flying—and that gives us the answer."

MELANCHOLY DAYS

Winnipeg Free Press
This is no reference to the unhappy state of international affairs, but to the apparent death of nature—the sunless days, the lengthening hours of darkness, a time when we are poorer for the loss of the flowers except a few hardy invincibles that try to cheer us, a time when our friends, the birds, have nearly all flown to a gentler clime, and when hostile blasts from the north give us a stern warning.

A.P. Foreign Affairs Analyst

THE eastern developments continue to remind us forcefully that the war between communism and democracy is a two-front affair.

The European conflict naturally is of more immediate importance to the western world. But in the long run we are likely to find that the outcome of the struggle is quite as dependent on Asia as on Europe. Anyway, this much is clear:

The democracies could triumph in the west and still lose the global decision through failure in the Orient. That's a definite danger.

China is the key to the situation. Her affiliations are with the western democracies but she is across the world from them and is fighting an uphill battle for her very life. We are wont to think of her in terms of her mighty size and geographical importance, which gave her a place among the big five powers of the world, and yet she hasn't the strength to live up to that proud title because she is torn by civil war and is shattered economically.

HAMPSON REPORT

Fred Hampson, chief of the Associated Press in China, says observers believe Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's government should be able to pull through the winter economically and militarily without important outside aid. Yet these same observers warn that Chiang's regime sooner or later will come to a dead end unless foreign help is enormously greater than any now in sight.

The generalissimo's China is growing weaker economically. The government is said to be throwing 80 per cent of its expenditures into the war against the Chinese Communists, leaving little for rehabilitation of the stricken country.

Meantime, while Chiang's forces have achieved sweeping victories in Manchuria, the revolutionists—said in official circles to be aided by the Russians—have captured the vastly important government base of Shihkiachang in north China, southwest of Peiping. The Chinese Reds also have been successful along the great Yangtze River, and threaten the railway life-line between south and north China. Should they be able to cut the railroad it would be a major disaster for the government.

KOREAN ISSUE

Closely linked with the Chinese situation is the dispute involving Korea, which is vastly important strategically in both the military and the political sense. The United Nations Assembly last week adopted an American proposal for the creation of a U.N. commission to hold elections in Korea by the end of next March. The Russians not only opposed this but declared that they would boycott the commission, and Dmitri Manuilsky, Ukrainian delegate, asserted that the U.N. action would turn Korea into a battlefield. Presumably he had in mind that the northern half of the country is occupied by Russian troops and the southern part by an American force.

This has created a position which leads American occupation officials to foresee the creation of a separate state in their portion and the absorption of northern Korea into the Soviet zone of influence. The southern part of the country is heavily anti-Communist, while the north is said to have been strongly communized by the Russians.

DESERT COLORS

New York Times
Desert colors are rock colors, and they vary with the light and the time of day. A mountain glows fiery red at sunrise, turns dull brown at midday, is purple at dusk. A desert valley holds the blue of distance, the glittery white of full sun, the gray of evening. It has been thus for untold centuries. The desert has no summer lushness no autumn brilliance beyond the brilliance of its hard light, its deceptive distance, its eroded rocks. It lies there with geologic ghosts, forgotten by the seas which formed it.

Manuisky Version Of Spy Investigation Lies, Says Ilsley

HALIFAX (CP)—Justice Minister Ilsley described charges by Dmitri Manuisky, Ukraine United Nations delegate, that Canada had plotted against Russia, as ridiculous and added they "will drive another nail in the coffin of the Labor-Progressive or Communist party."

Arriving here Saturday from the United Nations' General Assembly meeting, Mr. Ilsley addressed the Nova Scotia Young Liberal Association.

He had heard the Soviet delegate deliver his attack on Canada Friday night. At that time Manuisky said that after the last General Assembly session, "an anti-Soviet plot was hatched in Canada." He added that "unbridled agitation was used" and declared "this was shameful of Canada."

Replying to Manuisky, the justice minister declared:

"Everyone in Canada knows we did not plot against the Soviet Union. The appointment of the royal commission was, of course, not in any sense a plot, and it was not directed against the Soviet Union. It was instituted for the ascertainment of facts, which if they were as alleged would necessitate the cleansing of our own civil service."

"Information came to us that official secrets were being revealed to representatives of the government of the Soviet Union in the Soviet Embassy. This had been going on for many months, over a period when our admiration for Russia was great, and, as we thought our relations with Russia were of the friendliest nature."

CANADA GAVE AID

"We were discussing with them mutual aid, long-term credits, supplying them with wheat, and other matters, and we discovered that over this very period their officials were enticing some of our civil servants to violate their oaths of office, as well as the Official Secrets Act, and clandestinely to give them secret information. Persons closely and officially connected with the Communist Party of Canada were mixed up in the business."

"It was not we who were the plotters. As to where the shameful lay, you can form your own opinion. The fact is that no other course was open to us except the one we took. Had we not taken it, we would have been recreant to our trust as servants of the Canadian people."

"I wonder what happens to civil servants in the Ukraine who give secret information to foreign countries? Mr. Manuisky's ridiculous charges will have only one effect in Canada. They will drive another nail in the coffin of the Labor-Progressive or Communist party."

Mr. Ilsley also referred to Manuisky's charge that Canada had opened its doors wide to "those criminals who fought on the German side in the war against the United Nations."

"This," Mr. Ilsley declared, "is completely untrue. This is not the type of immigrant we are getting from the displaced persons camps at all, and Mr. Manuisky knows it."

Dog Talks, He Says

CHICAGO (AP)—The firemen, at the suburban Cicero station swear that Sam, a dog who drops in occasionally, can talk.

Joseph David, assistant chief, said he and several other firemen had heard Sam make several remarks, "and it sounds just like talk."

"That dog controls his bark so it comes out like words," David said.

Sam's master, Edward Nowy, who lives near the station, brought him in the other day and offered him a piece of his favorite liver sausage, David said.

"The dog slowly produced a sound that said just as clearly as I'm saying it, 'I want it,'" the assistant chief declared.

Nowy says Sam, a four-year-old shepherd, also says "I want out" and "Water."

Sam was trained by Nowy's daughter, Jeanne, a teacher of backward children, at Champaign, Ill.

Horse Kills Eagle

STOCKHOLM (Reuter) — A battle between a horse and an eagle was reported by a farmhand returning to his home on the island of Gland off the south coast of Sweden.

He said the bird suddenly dived at the horse and attacked its chest. The horse reared and struck back with its hoofs.

After the fight had lasted 15 minutes, the horse landed a blow killing the bird which, when measured, was seven feet from wingtip to wingtip.

Port Alberni Ratepayers Back Ald. Jordan For Mayor

PORT ALBERNI — Port Alberni Ratepayers' Association has voted unanimously to support Ald. L. K. Jordan as their candidate for mayor. It is understood that Mayor W. C. Hamilton will stand again for office.

For council the group elected a slate including Ald. G. Folkard, W. Yates, W. Latta, J. Mosdell and M. Wren. Although Mr. Latta was nominated and elected to the slate, it was pointed out that his recent selling and purchasing of property may make him ineligible for office. H. E. Murray, secretary, explained Mr. Latta's qualifications of engineer make him desirable as an alderman. If Mr. Latta is eligible, Mr. Wren, who received the least votes, will retire from the slate. For school board the group nominated D'Arcy Thompson and A. Martinich.

At Alberni, a ratepayers' association meeting has put forth J. Hills to oppose Mayor C. C. Cocks, who stated Thursday he will run again. The Alberni group reports it will meet shortly to decide a slate of aldermanic candidates and a candidate for Alberni's one open seat on the school board.

The Alberni District Joint Labor Council has announced it will support W. Yates and J. Saxby for Port Alberni and J. Trebett for Alberni council.

PORT ALBERNI — Herman "Slim" Knights arrived here this week in the Fleet Canuck aircraft he flew from Port Erie, Ont., for Port Alberni Airways, which is operated by J. Moul, M. Barstch and Mr. Knights, air force veterans.

The fleet carries pilot, passenger and 250 pounds of freight. It will be fitted with pontoons and placed in the company's charter service with base at Sproat Lake.

PORT ALBERNI — Theft of a 1947 blue-green Monarch sedan, owned by Max Wright, principal of the senior high school, has been reported to provincial police, who are investigating. The car was missed during school hours Friday.

Mesachie Lake Gets Community Hall

MESACHIE LAKE — Foundations laid last July for the Mesachie Community Hall were abandoned, but now the building is going ahead and will be finished before Christmas. In time for the concert and party for the children of the community.

The new hall is situated about 200 feet back from the South Shore Road and in the park area of the village.

Cumberland Names Veteran New Postmaster

CUMBERLAND — Arthur Ramsell, a post office clerk before he joined the R.C.A.F. during the war, has been named postmaster for Cumberland, succeeding J. C. Brown, who held the position for 25 years.

Mr. Ramsell was born and educated at Cumberland and recently completed a course to fit himself for postal work.

Parksville Board Sees French Creek Boat Basin Plans

PARKSVILLE — Preliminary plans for a boat basin and float at French Creek were shown by A. G. Webster, Dominion government engineer, New Westminster, to a joint executive meeting of the Boards of Trade of Parksville and Qualicum Beach.

Mr. Webster explained that the project at French Creek half way between the two communities would take the place for the time being of the breakwaters for which both the Parksville and Qualicum boards have been pressing.

The plans call for a breakwater at the east side of French Creek with diversion of the creek to the west. Dredging would be carried out to form a basin and a channel 40 feet wide. This channel would lead from the basin to low tide water mark. Proposed dredging would allow five feet of water in the basin at low tide. Estimated cost of the project is $72,000.

With no harbors on Vancouver Island's east coast in the Parksville-Qualicum Beach area the French Creek basin would provide shelter for large numbers of both commercial and pleasure craft.

PARKSVILLE — Harry Butler, chairman of Kinsmen Food for Britain Fund, outlined plans to support the club's national project at a meeting at Green Briars. To raise funds, Parksville Kinsmen will hold two dances at the Errington Memorial Hall before Christmas.

New members admitted to the club were H. J. Parsley and Harry Wilson.

Open Municipal Office At Comox

COMOX — Many residents and officials of various district organizations attended the official opening of the new municipal office of the village of Comox.

An outline of the rapid growth of the village since its incorporation in January, 1946, was given by Mayor J. H. Simms of Courtenay, who opened the new office.

Pesiding at the ceremony was John Noel, chairman of the village commission, who said the opening of the new office was the fulfillment of one of his pet projects and the result of much hard work on the part of G. H. Ellis, building committee chairman, and J. B. Howes, building inspector.

Langford Meetings

LANGFORD — Delegate to the Saanich and South Vancouver Island Health Unit, will be elected following the annual meeting, in the Community Hall at 8, Thursday evening, the school trustee will be elected at the meeting.

Langford Community and Athletic Club will meet Friday night at 8, in the Community Hall.

Rev. H. J. Jones, acting scout master, will welcome boys over the age of 17 at the scout meeting in the Women's Institute Hall on Dunford Road. Scout recruits are needed.

The Cubs will meet under direction of A. E. Morbey, Wednesday night at 6:30, in the same hall.

Mill Order Problem Discussed By Manager

ALBERNI — Questions on the odor from Bloedel, Stewart and Welch Co.'s new pulp mill were answered Thursday by J. Petrie, manager, who appeared by request at Alberni Ratepayers' Association Meeting.

He told members no solution to the problem has been reached but that the gases are not harmful to vegetable or animal life. He pointed out that kraft mills in Canada and the U.S. have tried to eliminate the odor but none have succeeded.

ALBERNI — J. Berry, secretary of the Alberni Ratepayers' Association, told the group no further action should be taken on chlorination of Alberni water until what he termed a proper analysis is obtained.

Carpenters Take Over Community Chest Canvass Job

Walter Jeune briefs a group of city carpenters who gave Saturday, their day off, to canvassing for the Community Chest in an effort to clean up the campaign, which has been lagging badly. To date $84,335, or 64.9 per cent of the $130,000 objective, has been collected. Receiving their instructions from Mr. Jeune are, left to right, Art Kilgore, Gordon Macham, Jack Doney, Dick Hill, president of the carpenters' union; Dick Midgley, international organizer of the union; Harry Yetman, president of the Community Welfare Council, and Bill Rasmussen, Also canvassing Saturday, but not shown in the picture, were Percy Rayment, president of the Trades and Labor Council, and Hugh Graham.

Canada To Press For Adoption Of I.T.O. Charter At Havana

NEW YORK (CP) — Canada will press hard for complete acceptance of the International Trade Organization at the Havana World Trade Conference which will open next Friday, Dana Wilgress, head of the Canadian delegation, said in an interview here Sunday.

Wilgress said that Canada, with the prestige of a leading trading power, will strongly oppose any efforts to water down the charter, drafted at the 17-country preparatory I.T.O. conference in Geneva which finished a month ago.

Fifty to 60 states will attend the Havana conference, which is under United Nations' sponsorship and may last three months.

Wilgress, who also led the Canadian delegation during the Geneva negotiations from which Canada emerged with 17 new trade agreements, arrived here Sunday night by plane from London. He will leave Tuesday for Havana.

"The Canadian delegation will try hard to persuade the other countries who were not at Havana but who will be at Havana to accept the I.T.O. charter as it is," he said.

"It is not perfect and there are more escape clauses in it than we would like. But we want to see it adopted for Canada puts great importance in the I.T.O. being established and starting to function."

1952 BEGINNING DATE
Supporters of the new charter hope that by 1952 it will begin to function.

Between now and then, it is anticipated the Marshall Plan will have enabled western Europe to recover sufficiently for trading to begin on the scale contemplated.

NO CONFLICT SEEN
United States State Department officials say the Marshall Plan and the I.T.O. do not conflict, despite the fact that under the Marshall Plan trading routes over the next four years would largely be from North America to Europe.

Clair Wilcox, director of the U.S. Office of International Trade Policy, says: "The Marshall Plan is for the next four or five years. The I.T.O. charter is for 50 years or more."

But it is feared the question may be raised by some delegates at Havana, particularly by non-European representatives whose countries will not benefit by the Marshall Plan.

To Serve 20 Years

VERNON, B.C. (CP)—Thomas Luxton, originally charged with murder in the Aug. 30 death of his former ranching partner, Hylton Roche Lane, today was under sentence of 20 years on a conviction of manslaughter.

Chief Justice Wendell Farris, addressing Luxton at the close of the Fall Assizes of the B.C. Supreme Court here Saturday, said: "You are very fortunate in your jury's verdict. It is not often—only the second time in my career as a judge—that I found occasion to be critical of a jury's verdict."

"It is my opinion that you came (from Armstrong, B.C.) to do exactly what you did."

Bride Wears 'Something Old, Something New' For Luck

For the traditional "something old" at her wedding Saturday evening, Miss Joyce Ena Unwin wore a small brooch of seed pearls which had belonged to her late grandmother, and the "something new" was a pearl necklace, her gift from the groom, Ronald Desmond Andrew, of Vancouver.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew were married at St. Matthias' Church, where the altar was banked with large white chrysanthemums, and the chancel covered with ivy and baby chrysanthemums. Rev. K. L. Sandercock officiated at the ceremony.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Unwin, 1840 Crescent Road, wore a gown of sheer white embroidered nylon over satin. It was fashioned with sweetheart neckline, fitted bodice, lily point sleeves and a full floor-length skirt. She wore a floor-length veil of fine net, and carried a bouquet of multi-colored baby chrysanthemums with tiny blue lovers knots on white satin ribbons.

Her three senior attendants were her cousin, Miss Pat Mugford, as maid of honor, her sister, Miss Gloria Unwin and Miss Mavis Barnes, another cousin, as bridesmaids. They wore dresses of embossed nylon over taffeta in pastel shades of blue, pink and turquoise respectively, with matching hats, and elbow-length mitts, and carried cascade bouquets.

Little Miss Audrey Thornton, niece of the groom, was flower girl in yellow sheer eyelet nylon over taffeta, and carried a small colonial bouquet of mauve and yellow baby chrysanthemums.

The groom, who is the son of Mrs. Elsie Andrew, 1979 Charles Street, Vancouver, and the late Mr. H. Andrew, chose his brother, James Andrew, as best man. Ushers were brothers of the bride and groom, Ernest Unwin and Roy Andrew.

During the service Mrs. H. George sang "O Perfect Love," accompanied by L. Partington at the organ. A reception was held later in St. Matthias' Church Hall, where the bridal table was arranged with taper candles amongst chrysanthemums on either side of a three-tier wedding cake. Mr. E. L. Tait, godfather of the bride, proposed a toast, and Mrs. George sang "Through the Years" and "Till We Meet Again."

On leaving for a honeymoon trip in Bridal Falls, B.C. the bride wore a three-piece dark brown wool suit with a blue nylon blouse, brown suede shoes and gloves and brown felt hat with blue feather trim. Her corsage bouquet was of gardenias.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew will reside in Revelstoke.

Do You Feel Nervous And All on Edge?
People suffering from loss of appetite and run-down condition with symptoms of nerve strain often need a nerve and general tonic. Glyco-lecithin with Vitamin B(1) supplies tonic ingredients. It is especially beneficial for convalescents. By increasing the supply of Vitamin B(1) in the system, appetite is improved and the system thereby built up to normal if the loss of appetite was due to deficiency of Vitamin B(1) in the diet. $1.00 at all Cunningham Drug Stores and other drug stores. Margaret Ecker Francis Wins Press Club Gold Medal Award

OTTAWA (CP) — Margaret Ecker Francis, prominent Vancouver journalist, today was announced winner of the Canadian Women's Press Club 1946-47 memorial award. Presentation of the award — a gold medal and $100 — will be made in British Columbia, said Miss Elsa Herwig, Ottawa, chairman of the award committee.

Newspaper, radio and magazine writers from across Canada based this year on the best handling of a Canadian news event of significance.

The winning story was "Nostalgia," which told of the post-war homesickness for far places of former servicemen and women. It appeared in Chateaufort Magazine in November, 1946.

Wilfrid Eggleston, Ottawa editor of Saturday Night, who judged the contest, chose Mrs. Francis' article as the "outstanding submission" in respect to literary quality, intelligent and fair reporting, and timeliness and significance of content.

This is the second time that Mrs. Francis, a former member of the Canadian Press and the only Canadian newspaper woman to serve as a fully-accredited war correspondent overseas, has won the C.W.P.C. award. Her first time, in 1944, was for her personality sketch of a paralytic in a Toronto hospital.

Those who received honorable mention in this year's competition include Dorothy Livesay, Vancouver, for her "Canada's Japanese Problem," an article in the Toronto Star Weekly; Helen Marsh, Dauphin, Man., for her "Coverage Campaign For Larger School Area," in the Dauphin Herald; Mrs. C. A. McGregor for her article "Winter Harvest on the Western Prairies," in the Western Producer, Saskatoon; Rae Tooke, Winnipeg, for her article "They Dig for Knowledge," in the Family Herald and Weekly Star.

Uncle Of Bride Officiates At Double-Ring Ceremony

Rev. H. J. Greig, of St. Philip's Church, Vancouver, officiated at a double ring ceremony in St. Barnabas' Church Saturday at which his niece, Kathleen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Steward, Vinling Street, became the bride of Gerald Houlden, son of Mr. and Mrs. Percy C. Houlden of New Westminster.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of heavy ivory satin, fashioned with draped neckline, leg of mutton sleeves tapering to lily-point wrists, and a bustle skirt, which was slightly in train. Fastened to a satin coronet was her embroidered full-length veil. Her single strand of pearls was the gift of the groom, and she carried a bouquet of red roses and gardenias.

Miss Rosemary Steward, sister of the bride, Mrs. Dorothy Dallimore and Mrs. Eileen Kenny attended the bride, wearing identical gowns of ivory shadow sheer, with American beauty velvet ribbon sashes, the same color repeated in their white mohair picture hats. They carried shadow sheer muffs of ivory trimmed with corsage bouquets of red roses and white chrysanthemums.

Flower girl was little Judith Ann Huxtable, whose dress was the same as those of the senior attendants. She wore a poke bonnet and carried a basket of baby chrysanthemums.

The church was decorated with white chrysanthemums. C. Dallimore was organist. Edward Houlden, brother of the groom, acted as best man, and ushers were Ian Kenny and J. Arthur James.

At a reception held at the Kit Kat Banquet Club, Mrs. Steward and Mrs. Houlden received guests, and a toast to the bride was proposed by Lionel Huxtable. Yellow chrysanthemums and white candles in silver candelabras decorated the bridal table, which was centred with a three-tier wedding cake.

For travelling to Seattle and Portland, the bride wore a grey crepe frock with pleated skirt, cherry red gabardine coat, black accessories and gardenias en corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Houlden will make their home in Vancouver.

Craigflower W.I. — At the regular meeting of Craigflower Women's Institute, final plans were made for the bazaar to be held Wednesday in View Royal Hall, commencing at 2 o'clock. Mrs. Stella Gummow will officially open the affair. Mrs. D. Bligh and Mrs. H. Keiser are general conveners, assisted by Mrs. J. Pilgrim, aprons; Mrs. W. L. Gough, home cooking; Mrs. P. Anderson, fish pond; Mrs. D. MacFarlane, fancy work; Mrs. M. Rines, flowers; Mrs. H. Rogers, prizes, and Mrs. Vic Sanford, tea arrangements. A report was given by Mrs. Rines on the south Vancouver Island conference. Plans were made to adopt an English institute. Mrs. Rogers and Mrs. Rines were named nominating committee. Hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. J. W. Pilgrim, Mrs. J. Rant and Mrs. A. Gray.

Secretary Steps To Top Job As Company's Vice-President

NEW YORK (NEA)—When a big blanket manufacturing company scanned its personnel for a vice-president to put in charge of baby blankets, guess who got the job? A woman secretary.

The climb of Eleanor Starr Taylor, new vice-president of Chatham Blanket, from the bottom up is a success story which should inspire millions of ambitious girls who look beyond their pothooks and typewriter keys.

What's the "secret formula" to be gleaned from Eleanor? Miss Taylor, who is still "Eleanor" to 2,800 employees from president down to the newest mill hand, insists that the "formula" is no more secret than familiar copy book maxims. The slim, soft-spoken brunette from Winston-Salem, N.C., says a girl has to take her job seriously, be alert, learn the business. She must, according to Miss Taylor, put herself on an equal footing with men and abandon 100 per cent any reliance upon tears or feminine charm.

Best single "stock in trade" that helps a girl to get ahead, she thinks, are ideas and the courage to express them. Her own courage, for example, in standing up for pastel colors, for blankets when the company's masculine big-wigs plumped for reddish

Eleanor Starr Taylor, once a secretary and now vice-president of Chatham Blankets, has a success story to inspire other alert secretaries.

pinks is one case in point. Her expressed conviction that informative labels should be attached to blankets telling owners how to take care of them is another.

Noteworthy among Miss Taylor's other ideas that have been put into action by Chatham was the suggestion that packers ought to be as white-gloved for work as diplomats, if blankets are to be kept clean. She also had baby blankets packed in clear plastic boxes which advertise their untouchable cleanliness. At her insistence, company chemists developed a solution to keep satin bindings from fading.

The housewife who wants to take better care of her blankets can also profit from the experience of the woman who has made a career of them.

An almost universal fault of blanket owners, she says, is in washing—too long and in water that's too hot. Her advice? "Two minutes in a washing machine. When instructions read 'wash in tepid water,' the manufacturer means water bordering on cool. To keep the nap fluffy, every vestige of soap must be rinsed out. Otherwise, blankets will become hard and stiff."

Smart blanket buyers should consider the use to which they will put their covering, says Miss Taylor. For strenuous use—as for junior rough-housing—she recommends a blanket that is 75 per cent wool for warmth and 25 per cent cotton for strength. Luxuriously napped all-wool blankets require more delicate handling, Vice-president Taylor says.

Clubwomen's News

Post-War Bazaar—Lady Lake will officiate at the opening of the first post-war bazaar, not handicapped by rationing and other restrictions, sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary of St. Paul's Naval and Garrison Church, at 2:30 on Wednesday. Homemade Christmas cakes and candy and Christmas gift articles will be displayed. Afternoon tea will be served from 3 o'clock and in the evening at 8 a progressive five hundred card party will be held. Stalls will also be replenished for the evening.

Navy League, I.O.D.E. — The regular meeting of Navy League Chapter, I.O.D.E., was held at the new headquarters, Memorial Hall, with the regent, Mrs. Carter, in the chair. Two food parcels were sent to England; 38 I.O.D.E. calendars sent to British Columbia coast lighthouses. Central Junior High, Seamen's Institute and the Solarium. Articles valued to the amount of $25.04 were turned in to Municipal Chapter and nursery bags sent to the value of $12.38. Miss K. Hamber was welcomed as new member.

Bazaar and Tea—At the last meeting of the Order of the Royal Purple auxiliary to the B.P.O. Elks, final arrangements were made for the annual Charity Bazaar and Tea to be held next Friday at the Elks' Home, Cormorant Street. The affair will open at 11 a.m. and a light lunch will be served at noon. Stalls of fancy work, Christmas gifts, children's wear, novelties, home cooking and candy and better used clothing will be displayed. Plans were also made at the meeting for installation of officers on Nov. 26, followed by a banquet.

Start Clinic—Members of the Women's Auxiliary to Ganges Canadian Legion decided at a recent meeting to start a blood donors' clinic early in the new year. Mrs. W. A. Brown will be in charge assisted by Mesdames G. Lowe, F. D. Mills and W. K. Wickens. Treasurer's report showed that $190 was cleared at recent sale and tea, making a total of $399.43 on hand. Mrs. C. Springford was named convener in charge of supper for the annual dance of the legion to be held in Mahon Hall, Ganges, on Nov. 21. Four new members were welcomed, Mesdames A. B. Elliott, J. St. John, R. Hurde and B. Wilson.

Want Late Bus—Members of the Luxton-Happy Valley Women's Institute with the approval of the Farmers' Institute, have petitioned the Veterans' Stage for a change in bus schedule to include an evening bus to Latona Road and a late bus, once a week to Metochin. At the meeting, Mrs. C. Willing and Mrs. J. Flatman were named to assist the district nurse at the well-baby clinic, the first Tuesday in each month. A sum of $10 was voted for trophies for the annual sports day at the elementary school in spring. Mrs. Stella Gummow spoke to the meeting on her recent trip to Amsterdam.

Royal Oak W.I.—Mrs. A. J. Ingram presided at the meeting of Royal Oak Women's Institute and an interesting address on the use of Victoria Public Library by residents of Saanich was given by Mrs. Ross Napier. A donation was voted to the Local Council of Women for cost of shipping clothing to Britain. Members stood in silence to the memory of Miss Kathleen Oldfield. Nominations were held and final arrangements made for the bazaar to be held on Wednesday afternoon and evening, with a floor show by pupils of the Eileen School of Dancing.

New Officers — Mrs. F. Whitworth-Russell was elected president of the W.A. to the Cowichan Branch, Canadian Legion, at a meeting held in Duncan last Wednesday. Other officers are Mrs. C. O. Justice, first vice-president; Mrs. P. Mason, second vice-president; Mrs. C. E. Bradley, re-elected treasurer and Mrs. J. Fraser, secretary. Mrs. W. Dennis, retiring president, was in the chair. Mrs. K. J. Griffiths and Mrs. F. Fawcett were named representatives to the newly formed Zone Council. Plans were made for a social evening in the Legion Room Thursday at 8 with Mrs. H. Jackson as convener of refreshments. The auxiliary will pack and send clothing to Vancouver next week for shipment to Britain. Mrs. T. M. Wilson was welcomed as a new member and tea hour hostesses were Mrs. P. Mason and Mrs. R. M. Wilson.

HISTORIC MEDICAL HIGHLIGHTS—No. 30

Construction Of a Drug

FOR many years scientists had been trying to isolate that part of the drug, Quinine, which reduces fever. In 1893, 24-year-old Ludwig Knorr went about it differently. He put simple chemicals together. Dr. Wilhelm Fliedner analyzed the resultant crystals and found that, though they would not cure Malaria, they had a miraculous effect on Pneumonia, Backaches, T.B. and Neuralgia. He suggested a name from the Greek word "Pyretos" (fever) and the new drug was called Antipyrene. It was the first great, completely synthetic drug.

It takes skill, knowledge and care to combine potent drugs into an efficacious medicine. Your pharmacist has spent years studying and training for his profession. You can rely on his skill and accuracy.

Vishinsky Says U.S. Preserving German Fascism To Fight Russia

NEW YORK (AP)—Andre Y. Vishinsky says he has observed a "frenzied" upsurge of opinion favoring war with Russia and that United States policies in Germany apparently are aimed at "preserving the remnants of Fascism" so that Germany "can be directed against Russia."

The Soviet deputy foreign minister and chief Russian delegate to the United Nations, addressing a dinner given by the National Council of Soviet-American Friendship, Sunday night, renewed his "war-mongering" charges, and declared:

"I have been here for two and a half months and I saw with my own eyes and heard with my own ears that there is a frenzied upsurge of public opinion in favor of war with the Soviet Union."

COUNCIL'S FIELD

"Under such conditions and activities, the work of the Council of American-Soviet Friendship becomes even more significant."

Discussing his charge that U.S. policy seems to be directed toward pitting Germany against Russia, Vishinsky said John Foster Dulles, United States delegate to the U.N. Assembly, was referring to this when he told the Assembly recently the United States would not "retreat to Potsdam."

Dulles and Britain's Winston Churchill were named by Vishinsky among those he said attempted to destroy the new-born Soviet state after the First World War.

Vishinsky also included France's Gen. Charles de Gaulle in his criticism, declaring:

"We remember this very well, the more so that now De Gaulle urges an alliance or crusade of the United States, Great Britain and France against the Soviet Union."

The Soviet leader told the dinner audience, commemorating the 30th anniversary of the founding of the U.S.S.R. and the 14th anniversary of the establishment of United States-Soviet diplomatic relations, that "reactionary elements would love to disrupt" the U.S.-Soviet relations.

Vishinsky, who departed almost entirely from his prepared speech, unofficial translations of which had been distributed before the dinner, explained that "what I heard and felt tonight cannot be expressed by words written yesterday."

"This building has everything that can be desired," Lieutenant-Governor Charles A. Banks said Saturday in opening the new Red Cross Lodge, which is to serve war-veteran patients of the Richmond Road D.V.A. Hospital.

The lieutenant-governor was introduced to the large gathering attending the opening by P. W. Jones, acting-president of the Victoria Red Cross branch, who noted the lodge was in line with the first duty of the Red Cross Society in every country of the world: "To render voluntary assistance in caring for the sick and wounded."

P. S. McKergow, president of the B.C. Division of the Canadian Red Cross Society, said the Victoria lodge is the eighth in Canada and the second in British Columbia. There is now a lodge on the grounds of every D.V.A. hospital in the country, he stated.

Brig. W. G. H. Roaf, district administrator of the D.V.A., expressed the appreciation of his department for the work being done by the Red Cross. Dr. C. A. Watson, medical superintendent of the D.V.A. hospital here, said the lodge would be of great value to his patients.

Lieut. E. F. Ambery (ex-R.C.N.) was welcomed to the lodge as the first patient visitor. He expressed the gratitude of the hospitalized veterans for the work done by the Red Cross in giving them a lodge.

Mrs. W. Hobart Molson, chairman of the lodge committee, thanked her committee members and praised the volunteer workers who will staff the lodge. "We hope to make this lodge a happy meeting place for the hospitalized veterans," she said.

Miss Louise Michaux, president of the Zeta Chapter of the Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, and Miss Eleanor Williamson, president of the Xi Chapter of the same sorority, presented Mrs. Molson with a cheque to purchase a phonograph and a library of records for the lodge.

Sunday afternoon, the lodge was open to the general public for inspection. "Today, the lodge is in use by veterans."

Spencer's Open New Store In Mission

David Spencer Ltd.'s modern store at Mission, B.C.

Modern merchandising techniques plus a streamlined chrome-plated, big-city emporium are combining to make shopping a new experience for Fraser Valley residents.

David Spencer's Ltd. new Mission City branch store officially opened its doors last week on the newest and best in merchandising ideas and equipment in Fraser Valley's history for its growing army of consumers.

On 30,000 square feet of selling space on two floors, hundreds of separate categories of merchandise will be displayed under the latest Colovolt cold cathode fluorescent lighting systems in surroundings of natural mahogany, tile-text and white, sound-absorbing Donnaconda board.

FULL VISION

Fabricated stainless steel doors of the new full vision type provide two openings in a front of glass windows free of pillars and columns.

Counter fixtures throughout are light-colored birch designed for efficient visual display. A side, low-stepped staircase designed for easy walking, ascends from the main to second floor. Merchandise display cubicles fronted by Georgian wire glass panels are set in the sides and top.

SELF-SERVE GROCERY

A self-service grocery is on the main floor. In addition, the main floor carries a soda fountain and lunch counter of modern stainless steel design, bakery, candy, fruits, delicatessen, clothing, jewelry, drugs, hosiery and notions.

There are three fitting rooms for women and two for men in the floor's clothing departments, which carry an extensive stock of adult and children's apparel.

A modern and well-equipped beauty salon with wall in figured cedar is on the upper floor.

Departments include furniture, bedding, stoves, radios, baggage, sporting goods, electrical appliances, mirrors, paints, wallpaper, garden tools, builders hardware, kitchenware, china and lamps.

Managing the new store is Victor Spencer Jr., eldest son of

Siamese King, In Europe, Told Assassin On Way To Murder Him

BANGKOK, Siam (AP)—A spokesman for the military regime which seized control of the Siamese government in a bloodless coup last week warned today that a would-be assassin is en route to Lausanne, Switzerland, where King Phumiphon Aduldet now is studying.

The spokesman said an attempt to assassinate the 19-year-old king had been planned as part of a conspiracy to overthrow the monarchy and set up a republic—a conspiracy which he declared the Nov. 9 coup forestalled.

The conspiracy was to have been carried out Nov. 30, he said. A message has been sent to King Phumiphon advising him that the man assigned to the mission or killing him already has reached Europe, the spokesman added. He said the government has asked European authorities to try to intercept the would-be killer.

Sunday the new regime announced it was holding seven persons as suspects in connection with the death in 1946 of King Ananda Mahidol, Phumiphon's brother and predecessor. The announcement said the seven confessed they had acted as look-outs while the young ruler was slain in his room in the palace by a former naval lieutenant.

GENERAL DISAPPEARS

Lt. Gen. Phil Chunhawn, deputy supreme commander of the Siamese army, said that Senior Lieut. Vajarachi Siddhivjev, a secretary of the fugitive ex-Premier Pridi Phanomyong, was also a suspect in the assassination, but that he had disappeared. Meanwhile troops watched the airports and harbor for Siddhivjev and any members of the "fugitive government" of ousted Premier Thamrong Nawasawat, who now is in hiding.

Phanomyong, a leader of the pro-allied underground move-

185 Jews Slip By British Blockade Into Palestine

JERUSALEM (AP)—Jewish sources said today that 185 Jewish immigrants who got by British naval patrols Sunday and waded ashore after beaching their 50-ton launch Aliah near Nahariya "are probably already dressed as workers and housewives and are out in the fields beside Palestinian Jews."

Officials who found the vessel abandoned on the beach of the fashionable resort, a few miles south of the Lebanese-Palestine border, admitted the Jews probably had scattered into Palestine's interior under cover of early morning darkness.

Meanwhile, 794 other Jews, intercepted Sunday aboard the 250-ton schooner Kadimah by a British boarding party, were sent to Cyprus detention camps. Four women and a child were taken from the Kadimah to a Haifa hospital and eight of their relatives were allowed to remain in Palestine with them.

Police who boarded the grounded Aliah "found a number of United States army uniforms and tins of food in United States containers," an official report said.

The vessel was floated and taken in tow to Haifa.

Unofficial sources predicted that the Palestine government would deduct 185 from the regular monthly quota of 1,500 visas granted to Jewish immigrants, to compensate for the number who slipped in without certification.

Veteran Education Costs Ottawa $40,000,000

WINNIPEG (CP)—H. W. Jamieson of Ottawa, superintendent of university training, Department of Veterans' Affairs, in a report Sunday night to a meeting of the executive of the committee of the National Conference of Canadian Universities, said $40,000,000 had been spent this year by the federal government on veteran education.

He told the meeting the government's plan for education would not have been successful had it not been for the initiative

Possibility Hinted King George Will Honor Canadian Premier

LONDON (CP)—United Kingdom sources hinted today at the possibility of honors being awarded by the King to eminent Commonwealth citizens, perhaps including Prime Minister King of Canada, to mark the royal wedding Thursday.

These sources said it was obviously impossible to anticipate the King's personal decisions and confirmation of their suggestion must await official publication of any awards made. Presumably such publication would be in the London Gazette.

It was recalled, however, that Prime Minister Smuts of South Africa received the Order of Merit in last January's honors list. If any award is made to the Canadian Prime Minister, it is considered likely it will be to this select order, whose membership is limited to 24. The O.M. and the Companionate of Honor, limited to 50 persons, confer no title or precedence. They are given as a special distinction for service to the United Kingdom and the Commonwealth, with statesmen, servicemen and authors now among the members.

The Prime Minister would become the O.M. if the hints here are true. While it is well known the Canadian government is opposed to the idea of granting Canadians honors bearing titles, belief was expressed here that he probably would feel able to accept the O.M., the highest award in the King's bestowal which does not involve a title.

The O.M. has military and civil sections and Smuts is the only Commonwealth member.

Around The Clock With Pro Basketball At Sooke Training Quarters

Manager Art Chapman of the Vancouver Hornets disturbs the peaceful slumbers of Ritchie Nicol as he gets his pro club off to an early start in their daily training grind. The Vancouver team will remain at Sooke for two weeks preparing for the Coast League campaign.

Norm Baker, scoring star of the Hornets last season and one of the brightest stars ever developed by the Victoria Dominions, smiles despite the close shave Doug Peden plans with a double-edged axe. Holding Baker are teammates Nicol and Bill Osterhaus.

Road work will be a daily chore with the Hornets as the boys get their legs and lungs into tip-top condition for the long grind. Here the boys return to their headquarters at Harbor House after a brisk jaunt. Left to right: Front row, Baker, Ken Lawn, Peden; back row, Nicol, Chapman and Osterhaus.

Double Victory Puts Toronto Leafs Ahead

Any time now the forums on the rejuvenation of the Chicago Black Hawks are due to be replaced by the "what's the matter with Canadiens" society.

In a full card of six week-end games the Toronto Maple Leafs won twice to go into undisputed possession of first place in the National Hockey League. By the same token, two losses for Montreal Canadiens put them in an unaccustomed fourth spot, four points below the Toronto squad.

In between, tied for second place only a point back of Leafs, are the Detroit Red Wings and Boston Bruins. The fifth-place New York Rangers are only four points back of Montreal—and only two points ahead of the tail-end Hawks.

Toronto, won at home Saturday night by 5 to 3 over Detroit, and then at Chicago Sunday night hung on to a 5 to 4 lead at the final bell. Canadiens were soundly trounced by the Bruins at Montreal Saturday, 9 to 1 and at New York last night they lost to Rangers, 4 to 2.

The four teams apart from Toronto and Montreal all shared victory and defeat. Detroit Red Wings Sunday edged Boston 3 to 2. Chicago had beaten Rangers 5 to 3 at New York Saturday.

Saturday at Toronto the Leafs spotted Detroit three first-period goals, two by Ted Lindsay and one by Jim McFadden. They tied it up in the second and won in the third as captain Syl Apps accounted for two tallies.

APPS GOES WELL

Then Sunday night Apps scored two goals at Chicago. Gus Morton, Harry Watson and Ted Kennedy bagged the others. Max Bentley got two assists against Detroit, nothing against Chicago. The Hawks' goal-scorers were Dickens, Hamill, Kaleta and Doug Bentley.

Montreal's lone counter Saturday night was counted by Elmer Lach in the third period. Pete Babando scored two Boston goals and the others were divided among Smith, Harrison, Sandford, Wilson, Schmidt, Dumart and Crawford.

After losing 5 to 3 to Chicago Saturday night the Rangers were full of steam when they met the Montreal last night. A revamped forward line gave Rangers three goals within a minute and 21 seconds early in the first period, with Trudell scoring twice and Frankie Eddolls once, and only Harmon's goal kept Canadiens in the running. There was no score in the middle frame, but in the third Kullman made it 4 to 1 before Quilty scored Montreal's second goal.

The Sunday night game at Boston, where Detroit won 3 to 2, was notable for the fact that nary a penalty was handed out. Bep Guidolin, a newcomer to the Detroit team, collected a goal and an assist against his former Boston teammates. Horeck and Roy Conacher got the others. Crawford and Babando were the Boston goal-getters.

Saanich Thistles Soccer Leaders

Saanich Thistles vaulted over the idle Navy eleven into first place in the intermediate soccer league Saturday by drubbing Oak Bay, 4 to 0, at Hampton Park.

Brentwood Aces climbed to within two points of the leaders by chalking up their second victory of the campaign with a 4 to 0 conquest of the winless Saanich Indians.

Crawford and Mackereth tallied for Thistles in the first half of the match with Oak Bay. Verne Atkinson scored both goals for the winners in the second half.

SOCCER PRACTICE

Oak Bay senior and intermediate soccer teams will practice at Windsor Park tonight and Thursday of this week at 7:30.

SCORES HOLE-IN-ONE

While playing over the Gorge Vale golf links Sunday, Chuck Vining scored a hole-in-one on the 200-yard seventh hole.

Two Late Goals Win Game For St. Andrews

Twice failing to retain a one-goal margin Victoria United dropped a 3 to 2 decision to St. Andrews in their Coast League soccer match at Vancouver Saturday. Victory gave the Canadian champion Saints the championship of the first half. The Scots finished with three victories, two draws and one defeat.

North Shore's scheduled match with the United here Saturday has been canceled and an Anderson Cup game against St. Andrews substituted. North Shore will engage St. Saviours on the mainland the same day. The series is a home-and-home play-off with total goals to count.

Victoria scored the only goal of the first half when Joe Travis converted a penalty kick, awarded against Nick Glover for handling the ball. It was the third spot kick against Glover in two games.

When play resumed Wes Henderson came on for Glover with Jackie Jones moving over to center half. That was the signal for the Scots' attackers to get under way, firing for the equalizer. They tied it after three minutes of play. Jimmy Greig scored on a penalty kick given when United's back, Alan Reside, pushed Greig down in the vital area.

Andy Anderson put the visitors out front at the 20-minute mark, coming in from the right side to head in Noel Morgan's cross from the left wing.

Booey Greer tied the count five minutes later on the best effort of the day. Greig started the play, sending a pass down the right side to Matheson, who in turn beat his check and then sent in a lovely cross. Timing the flight of the ball, perfectly, Greer went five feet into the air to head it past goalie Bobby Moss.

At the 33-minute mark, Stubby McLean notched the winning counter when he was put in the clear by left-winger Cee Goodheart, went in to beat Moss to the ball, and shot into an open net.

Two Couples Tied In Mixed Foursomes

In the two-ball mixed foursome competition for the Hill Cup at the Gorge Vale Golf Club, Sunday, Mrs. C. Keown and P. Steran and Miss L. Jarvis and M. E. Woodward tied for first place, with net scores of 75½. Mrs. A. O. Cooke and J. R. Clark were third with 77½.

The men's monthly par competition saw N. Galbraith take the honors, finishing 1 up. Al Tregellas and W. A. Bird tied for second, each with scores of all square.

GOLF TEAMS DRAW

An interclub match between women's teams from the Uplands and Victoria Golf Clubs, played at Uplands, resulted in a draw.

Y'smen Bears Thump Packers In Junior Football Contest

Continuing their winning ways, Y'smen Bears yesterday afternoon whipped the Foul Bay Packers, 16 to 2, in a junior Canadian football game at Macdonald Park. St. Louis College and James Bay tied, 11 to 11, in the juvenile preliminary.

Lone score of the rugged first half came near the end of the second quarter with Cook plunging five yards for the touchdown to give Bears the lead.

Packers counted their two points on a rouge near the start of the second period but from then until the end of the contest Bears held the upper hand.

Gaining possession of the ball on the Packers' 10-yard line following a kick, Bears made no mistake with Cook plunging for 10 yards and the score. Waite scored the final touchdown with Corby converting about two minutes from time.

Rynoski, Mitchell Spark Mustangs To Grid Victory

Displaying a better all-round knowledge of the game plus a pair of elusive scabbards in Ray Mitchell and Steve Rynoski, Mustangs won Saturday afternoon whipped the Navy gridders, 12 to 0, for their third straight triumph in the city championship American grid series. Mustangs won the series by the lopsided margin of 45 to 0.

The smaller but faster Mustangs took the lead in the first quarter with Rynoski firing a 14-yard pass to Bill O'Connell in the end zone for the score after one scoring play had been called back for backfield illegally in motion, and another for Mustang offside.

The teams battled viciously in the second and third periods, with much ill feeling cropping up rather than any attempt at football. Langston, Navy field general, was injured three times during the contest, having to be helped to the sidelines on each occasion.

In the third period Rynoski intercepted a Navy aerial and raced 70 yards to score, only to have the touchdown called back on a clipping penalty against Mustangs.

Final tally came in the last period when Rynoski tossed a 30-yard forward pass to Mitchell, who got in behind the Navy safety man to go over standing up and unmolested. The conversion attempt was blocked.

One of the features of the series, if it could be called such, was the failure of the heavy Navy team to score a single point in the three games.

Gordon Verley Wins Trophy At Uplands

Gordon Verley captured the Lewis-Feesey Cup at the Uplands Golf Club Sunday, defeating Don Woodhouse in the final.

E. E. Peden took first flight honors while J. Ranson won the second and George Austin the third. Medal honors were shared by L. J. Hiberson, Dr. H. H. Livsey and A. W. Ockwell. Verley was also the winner of the low gross.

Winnipeg, Argonauts, Ottawa In Grid Race

Canadian football fans looked back today at a Saturday of upsets without parallel since the start of the season three months ago as the time drew near for the east-west classic with the Dominion title and the Grey Cup at stake.

Winnipeg Blue Bombers carried the western hopes into the final, victorious over Calgary Stampeders for their sectional title after three playoff games, while eastern honors remained to be decided between Toronto Argonauts and Ottawa Trojans. They meet in a sudden-death clash in Toronto Saturday.

Argonauts clamped onto their third straight Big Four title Saturday with a 21 to 0 triumph over Ottawa Roughriders, winning a two-game, total-points round 24 to 0. It wasn't so much an upset that Argos won, but it certainly rated as a surprise on the basis of the ease with which they topped the club that finished first in the standing over the regular schedule.

But a major upset was produced by Trojans, who hammered out a 15 to 3 victory over Hamilton Wildcats in Hamilton for the Ontario Rugby Football Union championship. Another upheaval, although it had no bearing on the Grey Cup race, was University of Toronto's feat in fighting the University of Western Ontario Mustangs to a 12 to 12 tie at London. The Mustangs still captured the college crown despite the draw.

With 19,400 fans watching the battle, Argos never allowed Riders to get on the move. The Scullers, paced by Joe Krol and Royal Copeland, struck for a touchdown in the early minutes of the game and added to their margin through the next two quarters with a display of forceful, letter-perfect football.

Krol accounted for 16 points, on top of the three singles he had

Oak Bay Wins First-Half Intermediate Rugby Title

Oak Bay Wanderers came through with their fourth straight victory of the intermediate rugby campaign at Windsor Park Saturday as they whipped the J.B.A.A. squad 25 to 3. Navy squeezed through to a 9 to 8 win over Victoria College in the other league match.

Oak Bay's victory gives them first-half honors in the intermediate loop and a bye into the finals.

Oak Bay High School stars, John Foote and Gerry Main, carried the load for the winners as they set up many a long run for the three-quarter line.

Lorne Prevost tallied two tries for Oak Bay in the first half with McNeill accounting for one. Olsen converted once to give Oak Bay an 11 to 0 lead.

Keith Baker of J.B.A.A. climaxed a prolonged offensive for the losers when he went over from the five-yard line for his team's only score of the game at the start of the second half.

Following that tally Oak Bay came back strongly to smother the Bays with an additional four tries. Jacklin, Young, Main and Roberts crossed the stripe, with Olsen adding a convert.

The sailors spotted College a 8 to 0 lead in their match and then came from behind for the triumph. Kitchen scored Navy's lone first-half try to offset the penalty goal of the losers.

In the second half Shelton scored for Navy on a breakaway and Cambridge went over following a line-out near the Collegians' line. Final College points came on a penalty kick.

EXHIBITION TILT

In the exhibition senior rugby game at Macdonald Park, Victoria College had little trouble whipping the Canadian Scottish fifteen, 16 to 0. Game was billed as an exhibition when Scottish were unable to field a full team.

Macgregor Macintosh scored the first try for the Collegians' following a short punt by Jackie

Gibbs; Macintosh converted. Gibbs added the second first-half try by taking a pass from Roger Ross for the tally. D'Easum converted.

D'Easum and Dunlop scored for the winners in the second half.

Veteran Shots In Good Form On Traps

Veteran marksmen of the Victoria Gun Club displayed good form in cracking the clays at the trap ranges of the club's Albert Head Road grounds yesterday.

The trio of Clarke Atchison, Ernie Todd and Roger Monteith all came through with perfect scores in three 25-bird competitions.

Ernie Hazenfratz had his old marksmanship eye again. At the 22-yard line he took top honors in one event by pulverizing 24 out of 25 and in the doubles event only dropped three out of 24 birds.

In addition to his possible, Atchison, traps field captain, also registered twice in the runner-up spots. The miss-and-out feature was not concluded until the shooters had retreated back to the 27-yard line, and it was Dibs Noble Jr. who emerged with winning laurels.

Club president John Wenger reported yesterday there will probably be at least one more shoot before the annual big Christmas event on Dec. 21.

CALGARY WINS

CALGARY (CP)—Held in check by Saskatoon until Tohy Desmarais broke loose with the winning goal three minutes from the end of play, Calgary Stampede Saturday night took over sole possession of second place in the Western Canada Senior Hockey League with a 3 to 2 victory over the invading Quakers before a crowd of 5,000 fans.

Michigan Captures Big Nine Honors, Trip To Rose Bowl

NEW YORK (AP)—Michigan topped the United States college football picture Saturday when they grabbed the Big Nine title and a trip to the Rose Bowl by crushing Wisconsin, 40 to 6.

Princeton won the Big Three title by battering Yale, 17 to 0. The title is traditionally contested between Princeton, Harvard and Yale.

Georgia Tech was dumped from the all-winning list by Alabama, 14 to 7, on the personal brilliance of Harry Gilmer, an artistic passer. Utah was bounced for the first time this year by Idaho, 13 to 6, and highly-favored Penn was held to a 7 to 7 deadlock by a stubborn Army eleven.

One of the major upsets of the day was registered by Iowa, where coach Dr. Eddie Anderson proffered his resignation earlier Saturday because of criticism of his methods. The Hawkeye players registered a fourth period touchdown to spill Minnesota, 13 to 7, in the club's final game.

SETS PASS RECORD

In other frays, Notre Dame took a muddy decision from Northwestern, 26 to 19, which surprised because of its coldness; Penn State gained in stature by downing Navy, 20 to 7; Mississippi whipped Chattanooga, 52 to 0, with the great Charley Conerly completing 20 passes for a collegiate record of 120 completions in a single season.

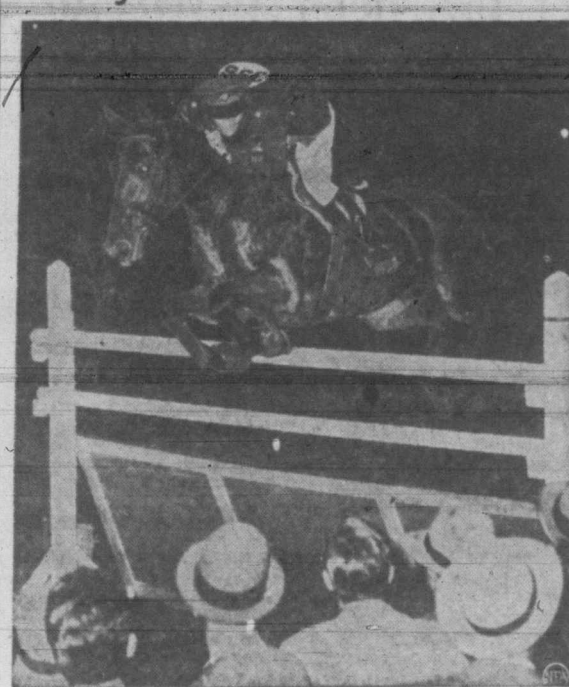

Standings also were shuffled in the Big Six where fine punting and alertness in recovering enemy fumbles gave Oklahoma a 21 to 12 verdict over Missouri. Iowa State closed its campaign with a 14 to 0 decision over Kansas State.

Duke, which has never righted itself since tied by Navy, was held to a scoreless deadlock by South Carolina and saw its southern conference lead threatened by William and Mary, winner from Washington and Lee by a 45 to 6 score. North Carolina State belted Wake Forest, 20 to 0, and North Carolina blanked Maryland, 19 to 0.

BUTTON GOLF

Vic Painter and Bill McColl of Colwood retained possession of the city golf button yesterday with a 5 and 4 victory over Harold Lineham and Sammy Samson. Next challengers will be Frank Clarkson and Bobby van Horne of Uplands.

Winning Form

Lt. Col. Charles A. Symroski of the U.S. Army horse show team clears the hurdles in the international military jumping event for the Stratosphere Trophy at the national horse show in New York. He won first place.

KV's Edge Seattle In Exhibition Hoop Tilt

Harold Turner's young K.V. five made their first international hoop start of the season a winning one at the High School Gym Saturday night as they held off a determined second-half rally by the Jewel Detective Agency squad of Seattle, to win 49 to 48.

In the preliminary attraction Chinese Students were too good for Duncan senior B and walked off with a 40 to 27 verdict.

Away to a slow start, K.V.'s hit their true stride halfway through the first quarter, and with Ralph Anderson and Fred Ranson showing the way took the lead at 14 to 12. It was all K.V.'s again in the second canto as they increased their margin over the Seattle squad to 28 to 17.

HEDREEN TOPS SCORERS

Bruce Hedreen fired the Seattle squad in the third period as they cut the margin to 41 to 35. Hedreen gave a brilliant performance in the keyhole, potting hoops from all angles to wind up with 24 points for his evening's work for high-point honors.

Seattle moved to within two points of K.V.'s at the seven-minute mark of the final frame, 44 to 42, but Bob Hampton tossed in a basket and a free throw to put K.V.'s ahead, 47 to 42. Two quick baskets by Hedreen cut the lead to one point.

Duff McCaghey made good on two free shots and Jack Love wound up the scoring for the evening with a field goal.

Chinese Students trailed Duncan 6 to 5 at the close of the first quarter, then outscored the visitors to lead 18 to 17 at the half. Duncan Lee rapped in eight points in the third period for the winners as they went ahead 29 to 22.

Heaney's, Eagles Win Juvenile Soccer

A determined Esquimalt soccer squad gave the league-leading Heaney's eleven a terrific battle in a first division juvenile soccer match yesterday afternoon before bowing, 2 to 0. Eagles took the measure of Margold-Colquitz, 3 to 1, in the other Sunday encounter.

Playing their best game of the season, Esquimalt gave up one goal to the winners in each half, Ray Poffinger counting the first and Ralph Shandley the second.

Ken Douglas, Keith Bertrand, Gordon Harvey and Harry Rhodes played well for the losers.

Veterans of France defeated Jubilee Pharmacy, 3 to 1, in a second division match Saturday. Other results saw Pacific Meat blank Rangers, 3 to 0, in division three, Tillcum defeat St. Louis College, 2 to 0, in division four, and Y.M.C.A. blank Balmoral Thistles, 3 to 0, in division five.

Rugby Victories

Playing host to two Brentwood College rugby fifteens at Royal Roads Saturday, the R.C.A.F.-R.C.N. squads chalked up a pair of victories over the College boys.

In the game between the first teams of each school, the servicemen thumped the visitors 29 to 3. The Cadets' third fifteen blanked the College unit 27 to 0 in the other match.

Vancouver Junior Gridders Hope For Dominion Series

VANCOUVER—Vancouver Blue Bombers today stand head and shoulders above western Canada's junior Canadian football scene, and are looking to the east for a possible contender for the Dominion grid bauble. Saturday, before 3,500 fans, they stamped themselves as one of the greatest junior teams ever assembled in Canada, by swamping a better-than-average Winnipeg Rod squad, 43-0, for the western Canadian title.

The game marked Bombers' 10th straight win, and ran their season point output to 303, against six points for the opposition. Swivel-hipped Walt Chahley and solid Sammy Casey sparked Vancouver, Chahley tallying 18 points on two touchdowns, five conversions, and a field goal, while Casey played a stellar game in the fullback slot both offensively and defensively.

Although they looked 20 points better than Calgary Tornados, Rods weren't in the Bomber class. Being outgunned was bad enough, but they also had some death-dealing blows struck against them, notably in the first half, which saw Bombers roll up a 21 to 0 lead.

Seattle Ironmen Win 7th Straight

Seattle's Ironmen ran their Coast Hockey League win spree to seven straight last night, beating New Westminster Royals 7 to 5.

The Ironmen staged a wild and woolly brawl for the home fans. No less than 12 penalties were assessed in the first two periods and Seattle's Maurice Duffy and New Westminster's Milt Sloboda drew major raps for a second-period wrestling contest. Each got a match penalty and will sit out their next games for renegeing their brawling in the penalty box.

San Diego thumped Tacoma, 4 to 3, before 2,000 spectators on the San Diego ice, and Portland Eagles measured the Vancouver Canucks for the first time this season at Portland, 5 to 3.

MRS. SMITH WINNER

Mrs. W. S. Smith won the Lansdowne Cup in competition at the Uplands Golf Club. Mrs. B. H. Anderson was runner-up while Mrs. G. Silburn won the consolation flight.

Legion Hold Top Place In Senior Soccer Race

Race for first half honors in the Victoria and District Football League today found Canadian Legion holding first place with a one-point margin over Oak Bay following a pair of week-end matches. Saturday the Legion came up with a 5 to 0 shellacking of Victoria West while Sunday Oak Bay and Esquimalt battled to a 1 to 1 deadlock. Esquimalt are third a single point back of the runners-up.

The Oak Bay-Esquimalt fixture saw both clubs pass up many chances to break the tie. Play on the whole was evenly divided with the teams showing a weakness up front when scoring opportunities were presented.

Inside left Gordie Hayward gave Esquimalt the lead after 10 minutes, finding the goal with a hard ground drive from well inside the penalty area. Ten minutes later the Bays tied it up, centre-forward Wiseman taking a pass through the middle and going in close to hit the net.

TOUGH CONDITIONS

West's suffered their worst defeat in several seasons at the hands of the Legion Saturday. Matches played on Central Park, the first senior fixture staged on the grounds in many years, saw the players under a severe handicap owing to the rough and greasy pitch. Poor clearing was evident on both sides as the ball took crazy bounces.

Legion, with a revamped lineup, were much the better club and full value for the five-goal margin. McCartney, a new centre-forward, although he only played the first half, handled himself well and contributed a pair of goals. Burt made his first appearance at right back and Heggie, well-known Navy player, was out for the first time.

West's also switched their lineup from previous appearances but the changes appeared to disrupt the club as it showed little offensive strength all afternoon.

Legion held a 3 to 0 lead at halftime, despite kicking against the slope, on two goals by McCartney and a third by Brown. In the second half Heggie and Pickup added another pair. Bill Prior in the West's goal had a bad day being continually caught out of position.

Buddy Ensor Found Dead Without Penny

NEW YORK (CP)—The death of Emery Lavelle (Buddy) Ensor, 47, once ranked among the greatest jockeys, came to light when his wife, Daisy, claimed his body after a passerby found him lying among the tombstones of a Brooklyn cemetery last Thursday.

Ensor, who earned between $500,000 and $1,000,000 during the height of his career in the early 1920s, died penniless, not far from the racetrack that once was a scene of his triumphs.

He had been a jockey for more than 30 years and was often ruled off the track, once for 10 years, but he never broke a racing rule save one. He couldn't refuse a drink. In later years he often advised young riders "anyone who offers you a drink is your worst enemy."

He won more than 1,000 races during his career.

Indian Handicraft On Display To Aid Native Industries

Some of the finest examples of fine weaving is on display at the native handicraft exhibition which opened this afternoon at David Spencer Ltd., in conjunction with the B.C. Indian Handicraft Week.

The exhibition, sponsored by the B.C. Indian Arts and Welfare Society and Miss Sara Spencer, has on display Nootka articles made from cedar fibre and woven entirely underwater. In order to make these articles, Indians had to search for days to obtain the proper materials and then spend many long hours in making the articles.

According to Mrs. J. Godman, honorary secretary of crafts for the society, the exhibition of native handicrafts was the best ever held in Victoria and some of the baskets on display was extremely good.

Mrs. Godman said she was deeply concerned with the problem of Indians living in isolated places and who were finding it difficult to find a market for the sale of their goods. Many natives depended on the sale of handicrafts for a livelihood, she said, and she expressed the opinion that something should be done to help them.

Indians were also short of beads, she said, and this also hampered them in making certain articles.

On display were some moccasins which were made by an old Indian couple, Mr. and Mrs. George of Prince George. The couple are 65 and 75 years of age respectively, and spend the fall season hunting in order to obtain hides so they can make moccasins.

There are also on display several antique Indian handicrafts which are becoming rarer every year. One of these articles is a basket which is waterproof and can hold water as well as an aluminum dish.

Expect 4-Cent Butter Increase

Butter, which is selling in some Victoria stores at 65 cents a pound today, is expected to advance to 69 or 70 cents a pound this week when retailers purchase new butter stocks at the increased wholesale price, one retail dealer said today.

Seasonal decline in cream production was the reason given by the Victoria manager of one wholesale firm for the increase in wholesale prices, which became effective today.

Robbery, 5 Drug Charges Against Vancouver Man

Allan Tilke, Vancouver, who earlier had a charge of robbing William R. Clark in the Seallard Building dispensary of McGill and Orme on Oct. 25, and one charge of illegal possession of narcotics read against him, appeared in city police court this morning and was charged with four additional counts of unlawful possession of drugs.

In all cases he was remanded to Thursday morning to set a day for trial.

The city police laid the robbery charge, the Royal Canadian Mounted Police the drug charges.

Lorne Clark, said to be making good progress in St. Joseph's Hospital recovering from bullet wounds suffered in the final phase of the search that resulted in his capture on the night of Oct. 25, is also to appear in court on the holdup of William Clark. Clark was captured by Chief of Police Gilbert Stancombe and Sgt. James Smart of the Esquimalt Police after he had abducted Constable George Harvey of the force and engineered a drug holdup at the Gorge Pharmacy with the kidnapped constable ahead of him with his hands raised. Clark will face several Esquimalt police charges.

Russia Already At War, According To B.U.P. Chief

Russia is already at war, and it is only a question of how far the situation is aggravated before it directly involves Canada and the U.S., according to Robert W. Keyserlingk, Russian-born managing director of the British United Press in Montreal, who is now visiting Victoria.

Council Balks At Sale Of Waterworks For 3 Million

City Council members balked this morning at offering the water supply system for sale to a proposed Greater Victoria Water Board for a price of $3,000,000.

Ald. F. N. Cabellu, chairman of the water board, proposed the $3,000,000 price as a basis for discussion, taking his basic figure from the Public Utilities Commission report of 1940-42, and adding approximately $500,000 to this to allow for timber resources on the Sooke watershed.

The property under discussion included the supply systems of Sooke and Goldstream, including reservoirs, Smith's Hill, Elk Lake, the 20 and 30-inch cross-town mains, the supply mains, pipes and their appurtenances of both systems, the city's equity in Sooke Harbor, Saseenos, Metchoan and other uses outside the city, including such areas as Langford, Colwood and all watershed lands with the exception of Thetis Lake and various properties in Esquimalt and Saanich.

The question proposed by Ald. Cabellu to go to the voters in December was "Are you in favor of the creation of a Greater Victoria Water Board?"

F. C. Stewart, consulting engineer, explained the absolute necessity of starting $1,500,000 work on developing new 36 or 42-inch supply mains into the city and connecting Humpback with Japan Gulch. He said it would take at least a year to get the pipe, and a minimum of two years to get this work done. The water supply situation in Victoria is now such that unless the action is taken, he said, there is danger of a complete breakdown.

Ald. Cabellu stressed that the city had the alternative of putting a $1,500,000 money by-law to the ratepayers in December, or sell the system to a metropolitan board.

DELAYING ACTION

Ald. H. M. Diggon led the delaying action on the decision, speaking in opposition to the sale of the system at all. His main point was that if the city disposed of its greatest asset, the water system, it would have nothing to offer an amalgamated Greater Victoria but a large debt.

He queried why it was necessary to take the system away from the city to operate it on an efficient basis and renovate it. "Can't we evolve a proper system instead of relinquishing our rights?" he insisted.

He read a long list of questions asking specific information on the physical water resources, costs of renovation, water requirements, revenues, liabilities and the replacement cost of the system before he would agree to vote on the sale or price motion. Ald. Edward Williams and Ald. B. J. Gadsden also protested at being hurried into making a decision, and the water board was requested to obtain the answers to the questions for presentation at a meeting, to be held as soon as the information is ready.

Walter Armstrong, Well-Known Customs Man, Dies Suddenly

Walter A. Armstrong, well-known Canadian customs officer at Victoria, died suddenly this morning of a heart attack at his home, 310 Quebec Street.

Mr. Armstrong, who was 50, was born in Manchester, England, and had resided in Victoria for 35 years.

He was a veteran of the First World War, having been a member of the 50th Gordon Highlanders, transferring later to the 103rd Battalion. He served in France as a motorcycle despatch rider.

For one year prior to his service in the army and one year following his discharge, he was employed by the B.C. government on land surveys. He was with the B.C. Electric Railway Company for a short time.

Mr. Armstrong was assistant secretary for the Victoria Golf Club at Oak Bay, which position he left to join the customs. He had been with the customs department about 15 years. He was a member of the Pro Patria Branch of the Canadian Legion.

Surviving are his widow, Mary Elizabeth, and a sister, Mrs. G. K. Beeton.

The funeral will be held from Haywards B.C. Funeral Chapel, Wednesday afternoon at 3, Dean Spencer H. Elliott officiating. Interment will be in the family plot at Ross Bay.

Case Of Saanich Bulb Grower Opens In Assize Court

Jeffrey Vantreight Jr., Saanich bulb grower, facing a charge of wilfully causing damage to the 100-acre farm of C. R. Wilson, opened in Assize Court today. The accused is alleged to have damaged crops on his neighbor's property as the result of blasting operations carried out on his property last May. Mr. Justice A. M. Manson is presiding.

In his opening address to the jury, Crown Prosecutor W. C. Moresby, K.C., said he would bring in evidence to show that bulbs and seeds were destroyed by debris and rocks which showered down on Mr. Wilson's property as the result of blasting operations on Vantreight's farm.

He added that evidence would show that the blasting on several occasions was so intense that workmen were driven away from the fields, and in another instance a five-year-old child was hit by a rock.

First witness called to the stand was W. H. Forrest, land surveyor, who submitted plans of the two properties involved in the case.

Ian Gordon Wilson, son of C.

R. Wilson, testified that on May 21 the accused started blasting on his property and considerable debris was blown onto his property. "Our hired help was only able to work for an hour, due to the blasting," he said.

The case is continuing. H. Beckwith is counsel for the defence.

Must Not Drink Liquor For 1 Year

Convicted Saturday on a charge of having a revolver in her possession on the public streets without a permit, Joyce Eng was given a one-year suspended sentence by Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court today. The magistrate said the approval of the attorney-general's department was secured to impose the suspended sentence. He ordered that she be of good behavior, also that she partake of no intoxicating liquor during that period.

September Gas Sales Gain Over Last Year

Total gasoline sales in British Columbia during September showed a substantial increase over September, 1946, but a seasonal drop from the previous month, the Coal and Petroleum Control Board reported today. Sales totaled 11,725,867 gallons, an increase of 2,754,107 from the September, 1946, total, but a decrease of 252,734 from the August total for this year.

Sales to resellers in Victoria totaled 689,347 gallons, an increase of 17.42 per cent over the previous September. Resellers' sales for the whole province totaled 7,485,449, an increase of 26.03 per cent over the previous September.

Forty-four of the persons who contributed $116.50 to the city police court this morning for traffic infractions were charged with violation of the parking meter by-law. There were 13 other $2.50 fines for parking infractions.

Fifth Candidate For Council Seat

A fifth candidate for aldermanic honors announced his intentions this morning. W. H. Williams, 822 Cochrane Street, 32-year-old carpenter, said he would seek office.

This is Mr. Williams' first bid for any civic office. He is running as an independent, with improvement of roads and public transportation as his platform. He is a member of the Canadian Legion.

Others who have already declared their intention to run are: Ald. Edward Williams, Ald. Margaret D. Christie, Ald. B. J. Gadsden and Reg Clarke Sr.

The Non-Partisan League will meet Tuesday night.

Mayor Percy George is still the only candidate for the chief magistrate's office.

DR. KURT VON SCHUSCHNIGG

Former Chancellor of Austria and a prisoner in Nazi concentration camps for seven years, Dr. Kurt von Schuschnigg arrived in Victoria this afternoon.

Dr. Schuschnigg, who will address a public meeting at Metropolitan United Church at 8 this evening, was taken to Government House on his arrival.

The ex-chancellor, although only of middle age, is white-haired, the only outward sign of his experiences with Hitler and his head men. He does, however, believe that it is possible for Germany to become a democratic country, adding that there were many outstanding advocates of democracy there before the advent of Hitler.

He praises the present coalition government of Austria as the best his country could have in the transition between peace and war, and voices the belief that the people should be permitted to vote in a plebiscite on their form of government and independence.

Dr. Schuschnigg emphasized that he spoke as an individual, familiar with Central European history, and had "absolutely no intention of returning to politics even after the occupying powers withdraw from Austria."

He arrived in New York early in September for his second American lecture tour. His wife, the former Countess Vera Fugger-Czernin von Babenhhausen, and their daughter, accompanied him.

Businessmen are invited to see a showing of a film entitled "The Story of Credit," at the Credit Granters' luncheon at the Kit Kat at noon Tuesday.

Oscar Matson, of Penticton, grand master of British Columbia, Independent Order of Odd-fellows, will officially visit Columbia Lodge Wednesday evening. Members from up-island lodges have announced their intention of being present.

Between $300 and $400 damage was sustained by two cars driven by Howard Leach, 2525 Cranmore Road, and Sigfrid Halstrom, Lawson, Sask., staying at the Hillside Auto Court, when they met in collision Saturday night on Gorge Road, Constable Robert Adrian of Saanich Police, reported.

Henry V Coming To York Dec. 1

Mail orders are now being accepted for the engagement of Shakespeare's "Henry V," which opens with a Monday matinee, Dec. 1, at the York Theatre. The technicolor film, starring Laurence Olivier in the title role, is sponsored by the Theatre Guild. It will be shown twice daily, with all seats reserved.

"Henry V" marks a distinct departure in the production of a Shakespearean play. In many ways it is a "photographed play" which shifts to motion picture technique whenever the scenes demanded by Shakespeare are too vast in size and importance to be portrayed adequately in a playhouse.

'Boomerang' Shown On Atlas Screen

Bringing to its fullest realization a revolutionary new motion picture technique, "Boomerang," the new 20th Century-Fox hit presented by Darryl F. Zanuck, opens today at the Atlas Theatre. With Dana Andrews as its star, the picture tells an astounding "stranger-than-fiction" story that for sheer drama and absorbing entertainment is said to be unrivaled among the year's screen offerings.

"Boomerang!" marks the third picture Producer Louis de Rochemont has filmed employing the unique creative formula that draws its power from an utterly naturalistic treatment of a real-life story.

Wallace Beery Says He Will Never Retire As Actor

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Wallace Beery says he'll never retire... back for retakes on "Alias the Gentleman." Beery was asked if he ever will call a halt to his 35-year film career... "Naw," he rumbled. "I'll just go on acting till I drop."

His current film is supposedly his 250th, but Wally says the actual number is around 400, "counting all those one, two and three-reelers I did in the old days."

Wally plans to do one picture a year and spend the rest of the time in travel or at his Jackson Hole, Wyo., ranch. He has nothing against the acting profession. In fact, when his daughter, Carol Ann, graduates from high school next June, he plans to help her start as an actress in the movies.

WORKING STIFF

Bing Crosby is the hardest working man in Hollywood these days, believe it or not. He goes to work at 6:30 a.m. making records in preparation for the ban on musical discs. Then he cavorts at Paramount in "Conn. Yankee" until dusk. His radio troupe is recording two shows a week, also because of the Petrillo ban, and that takes care of his nights. Surprisingly enough, Bing doesn't beef.

"It's not work," he says. "All I do is sing."

SIGHTS AND SOUNDS

Linda Darnell painting in her dressing room, the result looking much like a pretty girl... Keenan Wynn dining alone and lonely at the Brown Derby... Van Johnson playing night tennis with Bobby Riggs...

Red Skelton getting a cut face and a bruised knee, as he performs a strenuous scene for "Fuller Brush Man"... Spencer Tracy getting lathered 10 times for a shaving scene in "State of the Union" and commenting, "I've never been this clean."

Peggy Lee is much improved and will be back on the Durante show Nov. 26... don't believe those stories that recording singers will beat the Petrillo ban by waxing in Mexico or with a vocal accompaniment. During the last record drought, singers who did so were considered "unfriendly" and pressure was brought for them to desist.

'Forever Amber' Offered At Royal

Fencing instructors who teach sword play to actors in the film capital employ the novel technique of substituting parries for piques. To prevent false moves which might result in serious injury to top-flight stars, they chart fencing matches on paper exactly as is done in ballet.

For instance, the duel between Cornel Wilde and Glenn Langan which is fought over Linda Darnell in 20th Century-Fox's "Forever Amber," was written in ballet fashion, step by step and movement by movement, by Fred Cavens, the film colony's leading saber specialist. Photographed in color by technicolor, and presented by Darryl F. Zanuck, "Forever Amber" opens tomorrow at the Royal Theatre.

DOMINION THEATRE

Julie Bishop's featured role in Columbia's "Last of the Redmen," vitacolor film now playing at the Dominion Theatre, marks her return to motion pictures. Miss Bishop, under the screen name of Jacqueline Wells, was

'Incendiary Blonde' Technicolor Show

The versatile, volatile Betty Hutton has come a long way since she first laid siege to film-land. Certainly no Hollywood actress could impersonate the fabulous Texas Guinan with such verve and sincerity as does the Hutton-tot in Paramount's latest technicolor spectacle, "Incendiary Blonde," which opened today at the Rio Theatre. Co-starring Betty with dark, handsome Arturo de Cordova, the film also features Barry Fitzgerald, Charles Ruggles, Albert Dekker, Mary Phillips and Bill Goodwin in an excellent supporting cast.

Movie Star Must Be Animal Trainer

"You have to be an animal trainer to be a movie star these days." This was the lament with which Dorothy Lamour recently greeted the discovery that she would have to do scenes with 1,500 pounds of Russian brown bear in Paramount's "Road to Utopia," the comedy currently at the York Theatre in which she again teams with Bing Crosby and Bob Hope.

Oak Bay Presents 'Kid From Brooklyn'

The audacity exhibited by a Brooklyn milkman motivates the action in Samuel Goldwyn's new technicolor comedy-musical for RKO Radio release, "The Kid From Brooklyn," starring Danny Kaye in the role of the milkman who, through a series of hilarious circumstances, is jockeyed into the prize ring, is now being shown at Oak Bay Theatre.

Virginia Mayo as Danny's sweetheart and Vera-Ellen sing several tuneful ditties by Jule Styne and Sammy Cahn in spectacular production scenes, assisted by the Goldwyn Girls.

PLAZA THEATRE

Against his will, Director Ray Taylor sacrificed a bit of realism in Universal's "The Vigilantes Return," cinecolor outdoor action film now at the Plaza Theatre with Jon Hall, Margaret Lindsay.

When the company started filming exterior scenes on location in rugged mountain territory of southern California, Taylor refused to allow prop men to spray the area with D.D.T. to destroy flies.

"Back in the 1890's, the period of this story, the director pointed out, 'flies were part of the local color of western scenery.'"

Help Kidneys In 30 Minutes

If you suffer from Backache, Getting Up Night, Loss of Energy, Bladder Weakness, Burning or Itching Passages, Leg Aches, or Rheumatic Pains, due to Kidney and Bladder troubles, you should try Cystex. Within 30 minutes Cystex usually starts helping the kidneys clean out excess acids and irritating wastes which may be the real cause of your trouble. And this may quickly help you gain pep and energy—make you feel younger. Unless Cystex quickly brings you satisfactory help from the pains and distress of Kidney and Bladder troubles, simply return the empty package and you get your money back. You have everything to gain and nothing to lose, so don't suffer another day without asking your druggist for Cystex.

Gallup Poll

If Russia Has Atom Bomb, U.S. Voters Appear Undisturbed

By AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF PUBLIC OPINION

PRINCETON, N.J. — Viacheslav Molotov's veiled hint that Russia knows more about the atom bomb than she lets on, comes as no surprise to the American people. The majority have for some time thought that other countries, particularly Russia, have developed the "know how" of atom bomb manufacture.

But the interesting thing is that American public attitudes toward Russia show no signs of modifying even if Russia does possess the atom bomb.

The calmness with which the average American reacts to the idea that Russia may have the bomb was brought out in a public opinion study completed recently by the Institute. A cross-section of voters was asked to express opinions on how the United States should treat Russia. A separate but comparable cross-section was asked what our policy toward Russia should be if and when Russia does have the atom bomb.

As the following results show, the attitudes do not differ markedly:

"Which one of these four statements do you agree with most?"

(a) It is very important that we make every effort to keep on friendly terms with Russia even if we have to make many concessions to her.

(b) It is important that we be on friendly terms with Russia, but we should not make too many concessions to her.

(c) If Russia wants to be on friendly terms with us, that's all right, but we should not make any special effort to be friendly.

(d) We will be better off if we have just as little as possible to do with Russia.

Meanwhile a separate cross-section of voters, also scientifically selected to represent the views of the whole country, was questioned on the issue with a different introductory statement, as follows:

"Our scientists think that Russia will be making atomic bombs in a few years. When Russia does have atomic bombs, which one of these four statements do you agree with most?"

(a) It is very important that we make every effort to keep on friendly terms with Russia even if we have to make many concessions to her.

(b) It is important that we be on friendly terms with Russia, but we should not make too many concessions to her.

(c) If Russia wants to be on friendly terms with us, that's all right, but we should not make any special effort to be friendly.

(d) We will be better off if we have just as little as possible to do with Russia.

Here is a comparison of the vote of this group with the vote by the first group:

Importation Of Rye To Be Controlled

OTTAWA (CP)—The revenue department today issued a memorandum bringing the importation of rye under import control and providing the first official confirmation that the government had taken steps to control such shipments into this country.

The memorandum, dated Nov. 12, said rye shipments were prohibited except under permit.

It was learned last week that the government had issued the prohibition order Nov. 7 at the request of the United States government, which said uncontrolled shipments were interfering with its food conservation program.

Rye had been shipped into Canada by U.S. citizens seeking to take advantage of higher prices prevailing in this country.

Painful Piles

I can help most pile sufferers. I believe I can help you too if you want relief from the itching soreness and burning pain of piles.

My Hem-Roid formula is different. Hem-Roid is an internal treatment. A small tablet taken with a glass of water. It helps relieve some of the conditions inside your body that cause you such intense pile soreness and pain.

But I'll be honest with you—there are some cases where Hem-Roid does not seem to help very much. I refuse to ask people to pay for something that does not help them. If Hem-Roid helps you, surely it is worth the small cost. If it does not help you, I want you to have your money back. I will take your word. I find people are honest about such things.

Simply go to any drug store and get a package of Hem-Roid. Use it as directed for 10 days. Then if you are not satisfied, return what you do not use and get your money back. This is an unusual offer but Hem-Roid has been sold on a refund promise for over 40 years. I am not asked to make many refunds. Hem-Roid must help most people who use it.

Try Hem-Roid now. It won't cost you a penny if it does not help you.

Gallup Poll

Should Bride Promise To Obey? Bulk Of Voters Say She Should

By CANADIAN INSTITUTE OF PUBLIC OPINION

While a cynical Ottawa economist maintains that "it doesn't matter a hoot, because the strongest personality will boss the family anyway," Canadians generally tend to the belief that the word "Obey" is a necessary part of the marriage service, and should not be omitted.

Most of them feel the same way about the marriage service which will take place next Thursday at Westminster.

And there are somewhat more women in Canada who want the word "obey" left in the marriage service than want it taken out.

Moreover, six in every 100 Canadians feel that both the bride and groom should promise to obey—although this might be difficult and somewhat confusing in actual practice.

These facts emerge from the results of a national poll by the institute, in which Canadians were asked, first:

"Some people feel the word 'obey' should be omitted from the marriage service. Others think the wife should promise to obey. What are your views on this?"

The vote is not very decisive, but fairly apparent:

Want "obey" omitted, 31%; want it retained, 44%; "both should promise to obey," 6%; qualified, 2%; undecided, 17%.

The public was then asked: "Do you feel the same way about the marriage service between Princess Elizabeth and Lieut. Philip Mountbatten?"

Analysis of the answers to the two questions shows that the largest group of Canadians approve the decision that Princess Elizabeth should promise to obey. Should include the word "obey," 43%; should not include word "obey," 29%; undecided, 28%.

To the first question, dealing with the general marriage service, members of the Roman Catholic faith are most emphatic in maintaining that the controversial word has a definite place in the marriage service. Protestants, on the other hand, tend to feel it should be omitted.

The experience of marriage has little effect on one's views, as the poll finds little difference between the views of married and single people.

Here is the way men and women feel about it:

	Men	Women
Should omit.....	36%	36%
Should not omit.....	43%	40%
Both should promise.....	3	7
Qualified.....	1	2
Undecided.....	18	15
	100%	100%

LEGEND SAYS "LOST TRIBES" SETTLED AFGHANISTAN

A strange country in Asia is called Afghanistan. It is hard to reach, and some of its customs are hard to understand.

Afghanistan is about the size of Texas, and has about the same number of people. Yet it is very different from Texas.

The people of that far country are known as Afghans. They have been called "vain, cruel, greedy, idle and revengeful," but that is going too far. Some Afghans are better than others.

The Afghans are a mixture of races. Turks are among their ancestors, also Tartars and Semites. There is a legend that some of their ancestors came from Egypt, and were members of the Egyptian Royal family.

A stronger legend says that the country was settled by the Lost Tribes of Israel. In the Bible there is an account of Israelites who wandered away to a distant place after being taken to Babylon, instead of going back to their homeland.

Those tribes have been a mystery ever since. Claims have been made that they were ancestors of the Anglo-Saxons of Great Britain and of the Indians of Mexico!

The Land of the Afghans probably has a better claim to the lost tribes than most other places, but the people are of mixed stock. Some may have come from Israel, but others are of yellow-skinned and brown-skinned descent. We have in Afghanistan an example of the mixing of white, brown and yellow races.

Afghanistan became a free country only two centuries ago. In far past times it was ruled by foreign kings, including Turks, Mongols, Arabs, Hindus and Persians. At present the official language is Persian, but the country is separate from Iran, or Persia.

Two hundred years ago this year a Mogul emperor died, and Afghanistan became independent. A man known as Timuh Shah held the throne for 20 years; and became the father of 23 sons and 13 daughters. When the king died, the princes fell into quarrels about power and wealth, and upset the country for many years.

Every human being—large or small, old or young—is dependent on his nervous system.

The nervous system supplies the energy to run the machinery of the body. Every time you breathe or move a muscle you consume some nervous energy.

At some time, in nearly every life, the supply runs short and you are left nervous, irritable and bodily tired. The night's sleep, if you can sleep, does not rest you.

You must call in outside help and this suggests the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

There are two reasons. First Dr. Chase's Nerve Food supplies the mineral tonics and Vitamin B1—the essentials for new pep and energy.

Second, after fifty years on the market this product has more than doubled in sales during the last five years.

More and more men are proving its benefits, for men as well as women are subject to nervous troubles, especially nervous indigestion, restlessness and tired feelings.

Ask your Druggist for the new economy size bottle of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Group is uncommon after children start to school. Nervous children seem to develop it more readily than easy-going types. When high-strung children have colds, their windows should be kept closed at night, and the air made warm and moist.

Ordinary croup is not a fatal disease, even though the child is in great distress. The attack may come back the next night, but the throat always heals without leaving a trace.

Victorian Heads B.C. Civil Servants

The British Columbia Provincial Government Employees' Association, winding up a two-day convention here Saturday, elected H. Gordon Moore of Victoria president to succeed Jack Lowndes, Vancouver.

Fifth annual convention of the association, representing more than 3,700 provincial civil servants, will be held in Vancouver next November, with the civil servants at Essondale being hosts to the delegates. Attending the convention here which made the Empress Hotel its headquarters were about 70 delegates from all parts of the province.

C. N. M. Cook was re-elected first vice-president of the association. Roy Hunt is second vice-president. Miss J. A. Bruce, Vancouver, is the new treasurer.

The new executive is as follows: C. Hauck, Essondale; David Monk, Victoria; W. S. Deans, Fraser Valley; W. Murray, Prince Rupert; Dr. W. A. Plenderleith, Nanaimo; C. K. Morison, Victoria; A. C. Bennett, Essondale; R. Carter, Prince George; L. MacPhail, Nelson; B. F. L. Thirrell, Victoria; J. M. Brown, Kamloops; C. G. Kimberley, Revelstoke; W. W. Stevens, Kamloops; B. Levitz, Vancouver; E. P. O'Connor, Vancouver.

Mr. Moore is president of the Victoria branch of the association.

EARLIER RETIREMENT

The provincial government will be urged to make provision for civil servants wishing to retire before the regular retirement age but not before 55 years to make larger contributions to superannuation funds. This would likewise require that the government contributions be stepped up.

Another resolution asks that the government take the necessary steps to have the annual report of the Civil Service Superannuation Act compiled to show the amounts of money paid out. The association's executive was instructed to discuss the possibility of group life insurance for all provincial government employees.

The executive of the association was authorized to "find out why civil servants are not eligible to hold office in the municipality in which they reside."

Open Festival Today At Lampson

The annual school musical festival in Greater Victoria opened today at Lampson Street School. Pupils participating in the opening session this afternoon were from Victoria West, Craigflower and Lampson Street schools.

E. Hulatt acted as adjudicator, offering helpful comments to the children on their singing.

Tonight groups from each school will sing at a public concert at Lampson Street School.

The second session of the festival will take place at George Jay School Tuesday, when classes from Oaklands, North Ward and George Jay will sing.

Cloverdale School will be the regional centre for Doncaster, Quadra, Gordon Head and Cloverdale Schools all day Wednesday, and an evening concert will also be staged Wednesday. String trio numbers will be played by Edith and Margaret McGill and Marilyn Baker at evening concert.

THE CEMENT WORKER

THE NICKEL WORKER

depend on each other

In a single year more than 32,000 barrels of Portland Cement are used by the Canadian Nickel industry. 240 carloads of brick and high temperature cement are used for repairing furnaces and converters. The purchase of this material means jobs for large numbers of workers in the cement industry.

The cement industry, in turn, uses a great deal of equipment containing Nickel. Inside the kilns illustrated here, for instance, scores of buckets made of Nickel steel are used, because Nickel steel stands up under the terrific heat necessary in making cement.

So the Canadian Nickel worker produces the Nickel the cement industry needs: the Canadian cement worker produces the cement required by the Canadian Nickel industry. Each and every industry in this country creates employment in other industries. No matter how we earn a living, we are all one family, each depending on the others.
